Central Administration-Superintendent

Mr. Charles Szuberla
Superintendent of Schools

TO THE CLASS OF 1969

I am pleased to have this opportunity to wish you all well, as you conclude your high school education, and as you progress to the world of work, further education, and adult responsibility.

My hope is that you understand that the ultimate test, of both our effectiveness in your education, and of your own future success, lies in the kind of person you will become. Academic honors, school achievements, diplomas, and advanced degrees do not guarantee concerned, active, and productive citizenship. This is our charge to you - be a contributor - an active participant, and our society will be a little better for your having come this way.

Good luck and Godspeed to you in this effort.

Sincerely,

Charles A. Szuberla
Superintendent of Schools

Niles East Students:

Our school is great because of the caliber of our staff, the genuine enthusiasm of our students, and the support of our parents. Through the cooperative efforts of all concerned, pride has made a difference at Niles East.

Congratulations to The Reflections staff for this outstanding edition of our yearbook.

Good luck to the graduating Seniors of Niles East. I hope that each of you will find happiness and success in the future.

East Division Administrators

Mr. Charles Van Cleave

Mr. Marvin Ihne

This year as in the past, Niles East's administrators were concerned with the many problems that face the student. The major responsibilities upon which each administrator focused his attention included attendance, parent-teacher relationships, guidance and student services. Mr. Ihne functioned as the Senior class administrator. Mr. Van Cleave was the Sophomore administrator as well as the Director of Student Activities. Mr. Swanson was the Director of Student Accounting and the Freshman administrator. Mr. Bonnette, the new assistant principal was also the Junior class administrator. Working with Mr. Colver, these men helped to establish a cooperative relationship between the student and the school administration.

The guidance counselor played an important role in the development of the student's character. Not only did he make out schedule changes and fill out college recommendations, but he also helped students with personal problems. In the confines of the counselor's office, the student's view of life was brought into focus. Students bound for college found the guidance department's services very helpful. College representatives and visitations provided the student with glimpses of collegiate life. The department also supplied those interested and qualified with information on loans and scholarships that are available. Students with other vocational plans were also aided by the guidance department. Thus a counselor helped a student not only get the most out of his high school years but also develop a mature, realistic outlook on his future.

This year the Special Education Department assisted many students. For those students ill enough to be confined to bed, the homebound instructors helped them keep up their studies. Through the audio-visual aids department students were able to assist teachers with the various machines. Those students who desired to maintain a job along with their school work had their schedules arranged so they could participate in the work-study program. To aid in proficiency and vocabulary skills, the reading laboratory instructor helped interested students. Hearing and speech correctionists helped students to cope with their respective problems.

Our librarians and nurses assisted the entire school again this year. The library added four thousand new books to its already large collection of volumes. A program was initiated whereby the library was available to Seniors during all periods including lunch hours without the regularly required pass. The Junior Cabinet made it possible for students to make copies of reference material by placing a photo-copy machine in the library. Our nurses' office cared for ill students and teachers and aided in emergency situations.

The goal of Niles East's English Department was for each student to cultivate an appreciation of literature and acquire the ability to communicate well in speaking as well as in writing. Underclassmen study Shakespeare, Dickens, Hawthorne and Mark Twain. Underclass courses also included grammar, theme writing, and poetry. Freshman studied speech and mythology and Juniors were introduced to essays and drama. Seniors examined the to Dickens and Shakespeare. Due to renewed interest, the English Literature course was reopened to Seniors. Students in this class made a thorough study of various English authors. Journalism and drama classes were also offered as a part of the English Department curriculum. Through reading and self-expression, oral and written, English students at Niles East became more aware of the varied forms and many uses of their native tongue.

In the Foreign Language Department, the types of languages taught ranged from the Romance languages of Latin, French, and Spanish, to German and Russian. The curriculum focused not only on learning the language but also on understanding the culture of the people who speak the language. Classes often utilized the language lab in conjunction with everyday instruction. In the lab, students improved pronunciation while they developed their comprehension. The annual trip to Mexico during spring vacation gave Spanish students the opportunity to visit a Spanish speaking country. This year a new course was added to the German curriculum. Students in fourth year German held class at Niles West with other students in the school district. Opportunities such as these will continue the improvement of the language department.

Social Studies enlarges our world

Mr. Mike Oatley

The underlying basis of all history courses was to display the connection between the events of the past and the events of the present and future. By the use of films from the recently enlarged film library, the students were shown the relevancy of social studies to their everyday lives. The Social Studies Department offered courses that traced man's social and political development, beginning with the dawn of civilization. Election year permitted American History students to see the democratic process in action. Juniors, in compliance with the state requirement, took American History and were expected to pass the Constitution test. Upperclassmen were offered such courses as APP American and European history, psychology, family living, sociology and political science, as well as the Humanities program, now in its second year. Understanding the causes and effects of history allowed the student to formulate his own opinions on how events of today will affect his future.

Mathematics encompasses basic skills and logic

Mathematics continued to be one of the basic subjects that Nilehi students included in their programs. This year the Mathematics Department added the Computer Programming course as a regular credit subject for Juniors and Seniors. Along with Computer Math and other specialized courses -- Math Analysis, trigonometry, calculus, analytical geometry -- the department offered basic algebra and geometry on three levels. The math contest in February offered advanced students the challenge of difficult problems as well as competition from other students in the state. The department's goal was thorough mathematical preparation for all students.

Science- Mind over matter

A background in the fundamentals was the goal of the Science Department this past year. Underclass courses were offered on three ability levels, Physical Science, Earth Science, Biology, Chemistry and Physics were offered. There was also a second equipment aided the mastery of lab techniques. Students from North and West joined East's Seniors for APP Chemistry and APP Biology in a new program initiated this past fall. These students were challenged by advanced lab work and greater complexity in text material. Students enrolled in Science Seminar played the roles of scientists by investigating and solving their own original problems. General instruction and advanced courses composed the curriculum of the Science Department.

Wheels turn in Driver Education

Passing a driving test is a long anticipated event in a student's life. To prepare the student for this milestone, Niles East offered him a complete driver's education program. All Sophomores must take a six week classroom instruction period during which they learned the "Rules of the Road." The second phase of the program was the use of the Aetna Driver-Trainer machines to teach the student basic driving skills. The final stage was "Behind the Wheel." This phase of the program allowed the student to experience real traffic situations and taught him the finepoints of handling a car. Upon the completion of the three phases, the student had acquired good judgment and driving skills and confidence in his driving ability.

The Business Education Department offered a diversified curriculum to Nilehi students. The use of the latest equipment and office surroundings aided the teaching of the Business Education courses. As in past years, typing and shorthand, useful to all students, were offered by the department. For those students preparing for post-high school vocations in the business world, general bookkeeping were offered. Through these subjects the Business Education Department kept up with the business world's demand for highly skilled office personnel. The department was also responsible for training students to go into the work-study program.

The Home Arts Department offered girls a thorough background for future careers in homemaking. The subjects offered included foods, clothing, home management, and child care. These courses taught the girls to prepare appetizing meals, care for a family, and sew their own clothes at only a slight expense. The department's facilities were improved by the addition of new sewing machines and tables in the clothing classes. Experience in these areas will be beneficial to any girl whether she becomes a full time housewife and mother or a career girl in today's active world.

Build skill in Industrial Arts

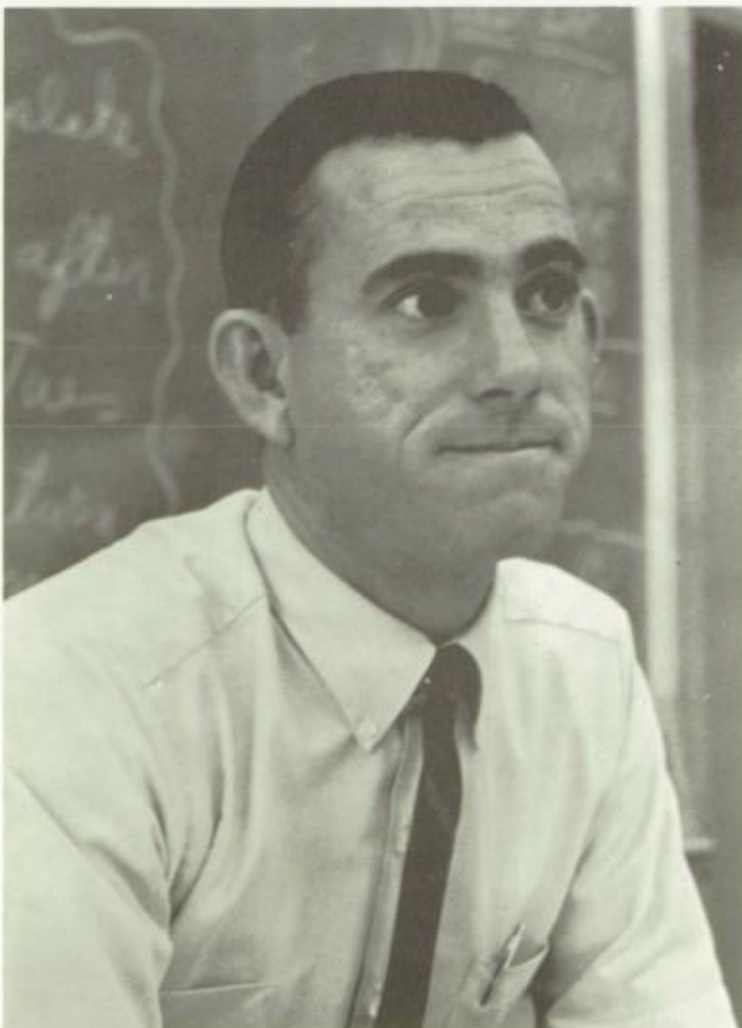

Mr. Donald Test

The Industrial Arts Department continued to teach valuable skills to its students. Each of the boys participating received instruction which enlarged and improved his skills in the areas of auto mechanics, architectural and mechanical drawing, metals, and woods. The curriculum stressed competence in preparing students for vocations after high school graduation. The training each student received will be an asset to him in his post-graduate life in the technological world.

Many changes took place this year in the Art Department. Three teachers were added to the staff as well as two additional classrooms. A completely new program was introduced. Previously, each classroom was self-contained, but this year students traveled from one room to another as their projects varied. Each room served a particular function allowing students to pursue greater depth within their specific fields of art. The general program included art lab, art history, and four year sequences in art study. The year reached a climax in the spring of the Art Fair where the students displayed their projects. A casual observer as well as a seasoned artist saw a variety of types of art work and a great deal of talent.

East's Music Department widened its program to include an entirely new vocal group, two new teachers, another band, and many new students. The Madrigal group included the four main voice parts, soprano, alto, tenor, and bass with four students singing each part. This group sang at various small engagements. The Concert Choir sang at many engagements including Temple Shaare Tikvah and the Museum of Science and Industry. At home football games, the Marching Band, consisting of members of the Concert Band, did a spectacular job of entertaining fans. Their appearance and performance was improved and enhanced by their new uniforms. Both instrumental and vocal clinics provided a rewarding experience for students. Professional musicians came to play and talk about their specialties. Because of the increased enrollment, a cadet band was added. These new additions have helped to cultivate music appreciation at Niles East.

Physical Education exercised both the mind and the body. Underclass girls were placed into categories according to their ability. The girls participated in basketball, tennis, gymnastics, folk dancing, field hockey, and softball. Senior girls had classes in modern dance, golf, fencing, and volleyball. All levels had six weeks of swimming instruction. The Leader's Program was continued in the Girl's Physical Education Department. These Senior girls, having passed the leaders course on the Sophomore and Junior level, aided the teachers in class instruction, acted as officials, and led warm-up exercises. The boys' classes continued to have mass calisthenics at the beginning of each gym period. Both the fall and spring curriculum attempted to furnish outdoor activity when the weather permitted. The usual sports of football, basketball, gymnastics, track, and baseball were offered as well as swimming. Adaptive classes for both boys and girls provided adequate activity for those unable to participate in regular classes.

focuses in on "What's Happening"

The theme of Reflections '69 was "Niles East as viewed through a photographic lens," which enabled the editors and their staffs to experiment with the new and exciting forms of photography available. Yearbook is always somewhat chaotic, but the energetic staff managed to transform the blank pages and confusion into what they hoped would be a pleasurable remembrance of Niles East and its students. At one time or another they all felt the Yearbook would never get to the press. Fortunately, they underestimated themselves.

Focus was on fun, cooperation, and completion. The staff met everyday during ninth period, when co-editors in-chief, Lynn Darmstadter and Sandy Edelman advised and assisted the staff on such problems as picture cropping, layouts, and copies. The culmination of these many long hours was the annual gala banquet in the spring.

Students view their image in NILEHILITE

NILEHILITE continued to be the voice of the students. It not only provided the students of Niles East with news of school and sports events, but it also gave those students with something to say and the ability to say it, the opportunity to speak out. The talented members of the NILEHILITE staff wrote many fine editorials and comments on school and national life. The Columbia Scholastic Press Association must have appreciated the journalism of Niles East, for once again they recieved a first place rating.

In proportion with its quality, the NILEHILITE was a success with the students. A not uncommon scene was students clammering to get a copy and read of themselves and their classmates.

Golden Galleon, Niles East's literary magazine, magnanimously accepts manuscripts and artwork from all students, however, only top-flight manuscripts and objects d'art are accepted for publication in the spring. This year's art theme was based upon the words to Judy Collins' song "Since You Asked." Galleon's so-called executive board meets daily in room 148 with its beloved sponsor, Mrs. Judith Relbis (Pildes). In order to finance the publication of the Golden Galleon the Guild sells indulgences in the concession stand at home basketball games. Galleon's motto is "Dieng myupe prantz," which means Moravian Strawberry! (The preceding paragraph was magnanimously submitted by the guild.)

Art creates an image

Quill and Scroll is the International Honor Society of High School Journalists. Membership is an honor, and it is reserved for members of the newspaper or yearbook staffs. Eligibility for Quill and Scroll requires that a student accumulate at least 210 inches of published material or art work by the year of election, be of junior or senior classification, and be recommended by the sponsor.

The Art Council enlarged the aesthetic appreciation of Niles East. Their focus was often just on fun meetings where they could expose their artistic temperaments. Nevertheless, their talent and hard work created many rewarding experiences. They originated a "floating" art gallery, composed totally of student work. Halls and lobbys were donated by many generous people, for the exhibitions.

They contributed to the annual Niles East Art Fair and Light Show held traditionally in the assembly room. As always, the show was a success. The many works by East's budding artists increased the artistic vision of the school and the many others who came to the exhibit.

Art Council exposes its typically dramatic self. Standing: I. Goldberg, T. Scarpelli, Miss Cohan, E. Kaplan, Slouching: J. Williams.

National Honor Society encourages scholarship, leadership, and service among students. To be eligible, a student must have had at least a "B" average and be of junior or senior standing. From the list of eligible students, the faculty chooses those students most deserving of this outstanding honor. At the annual Academic awards assembly, the elected students pledge to uphold the ideals, the principles, and the dignity established by the society.

Homecoming, Wild Wild East Psychedelic '68, was the culmination of meetings, laughter, hard work, fears, late hours, and fun. The organization was composed of chairmen and their sub-committees, each representing a different faction of the Homecoming entourage. These committees were games, parade panorama, buttons, alumni tea, publicity, art, and floats. The responsibility of all these committees fell upon the director, assistant director, secretary, and treasurer. Senior Cabinet planned the dance, chose the bids, and decorated the gym. Without the help of the sponsor, Mr. Lueck, the success of Homecoming '68 would not have been so dynamic.

Many changes were made at Niles East this year because of the hard work and concern of the Student Council. New ideas were initiated this year, among them, the open invitation to all students who were not representatives, to come to meetings to listen or speak. The most important accomplishment of the Student Council was the student "responsibility" program. Early in the year, the Seniors were given their lounge and the many obligations that came with this responsibility. The program was developed to enlarge the scope of all students and make seminars available to everyone. Other accomplishments Student Council was concerned with were the student supervised cafeteria, participation in the United Fund Drive, voluntary pep assemblies, the supporting of a Vietnam orphan, and much more.

This year Council concerned itself with the contentment of the students and focused in on the school as it affects the student.

Senior Cabinet '69 focused on making this year an exciting end to a hectic four years at East. In view of this goal, they sponsored "Groovin," the Homecoming dance, and built the Queen's float for the Homecoming parade. They held a victory dance after one of the home basketball games, and were one of the first to hold a movie night.

Ending the year, the Senior Cabinet sponsored a duet of events, the class picnic and bermuda day. Before taking the final step in their high school careers, the seniors donated the traditional senior class will and the class gift.

Junior Cabinet worked hard to achieve the goals they set for themselves. They sponsored a movie in and they originated the idea of a photo-stat machine to be installed in the school library for the student's use. Junior Cabinet built the traditional Homecoming float. They helped support charity by participation in the canned goods drive prior to Thanksgiving. They surveyed the entire school on the subject of the traditional Junior Cabinet concert. These projects and more were the accomplishments of the Junior Class of '70.

Being a Junior meant more than all that. It meant sponsoring the Junior-Senior Prom as a climax to the year, and this was their biggest success.

The Sophomore Cabinet was adjusted and ready to assume its role as an integral part of school activities. They worked hard at raising money for the primary activity of their Junior year, the Junior-Senior Prom. Money raising events began as soon as possible, and included selling class rings, class buttons, Niles East decals, and T-shirts. They also featured the Harlem All-Stars vs. the faculty.

Although the Sophomore Cabinet had a disadvantage in forming late, they worked hard and overshadowed their lack of being a Freshman Cabinet the previous year. By working diligently, the "Big 71" put themselves on the way to an exciting Junior Year.

Freshman year is the time for a cabinet to get organized. The new cabinet chose their objectives to be completed later in their high school careers, and then they began planning and doing. They sold buttons to raise money, and they tried to gain support of their class for future projects. Unfortunately, they organized a few months late, but through hard work the future Sophomore Cabinet came out on top.

Debate Club displays their winning personality and their loving cup for successful debating.

Debate Club was very convincing this past year, as can be seen by their shining loving cup. They victoriously out-debated competing teams from other schools. Every word they said was carefully researched and recorded, and their hard work and ability seems to have paid off. Under the supervision of Mr. Palm, the Debate Club met every day during ninth period to research and develop possible arguments for presentation. They developed deportment and persuasiveness before an audience to make their debating more convincing. Who knows? These may be our future politicians.

Debate Club lights up the issues

The American Field Service, sponsored by the language clubs, held a candy sale to raise money to host the foreign exchange students. AFS arranged for homes for Diane Mortimer of Australia and Jolanda Przewrocki of Switzerland and made certain that their stay was a learning experience for not only them but for their temporary family, Niles East. Niles East learned about their languages, customs, and traditions and they learned about ours. Their focus was on the expanding of understanding between peoples of varying cultures.

Expression through language clubs

A touch of antiquity from Latin Club. R. Chemers, Co-Counul; J. Goldberg, Co-Counsil M. Wilburn, Scriba; S. Gallat, Treasurer.

Language Clubs gave interested students an expanded understanding of foreign lands and their peoples. Students join them because language clubs give them an opportunity to meet others who are also interested in the particular club and to participate in the building of floats at Homecoming and booths at the annual carnival.

The Spanish Club had the chance to visit Mexico, dine at Mexican restaurants, and learn much more than just the language of Spain. The German Club, Russian Club, and Latin Club went on field trips to museums and movies, thus enjoying themselves while focusing on the knowledge of culture.

Development through dramatic expression

Traditionally, much emphasis is put upon plays produced at Niles East. The Drama Club represented a portion of those students who widened their vision through the dramatic arts. Important, but not always recognized groups such as Technis and the Ushers Club should be appreciated for the important role they serve at plays and concerts. The students in Technis controlled the lights and special effects which emphasize East's dramatic talent so well. The Ushers Club distributed programs and helped seat the audience.

A new addition to Niles East was Forensics. They were a group of students who competed with groups from other schools in the art of speaking. Under the sponsorship of Miss Stemp, they succeeded in expanding expression in the dramatic arts.

Niles East students were fortunate in having had a variety of special interest and vocational clubs. This past year, twice as many students joined the Investment Club than the previous year. The forty students decided for themselves, after research and investigation, what stocks and securities to buy. The club regularly produced an investment newspaper. A new addition to the club, a television, allowed the students to view the stock market quotations from the classroom. The young investors participated in several contests, to see which stocks would rise the highest.

The Math Club, consisting of seven members, utilized most of its time preparing for the Math Contest held last spring. Interested students were provided with an opportunity to challenge many complex and unusual problems.

Members of the Chess Club had a most difficult schedule this year, since most of the members were underclassmen. The club looks forward to an even better season next year.

The Electrical Circuitry Club provided curious students with the experience of working with batteries and circuits.

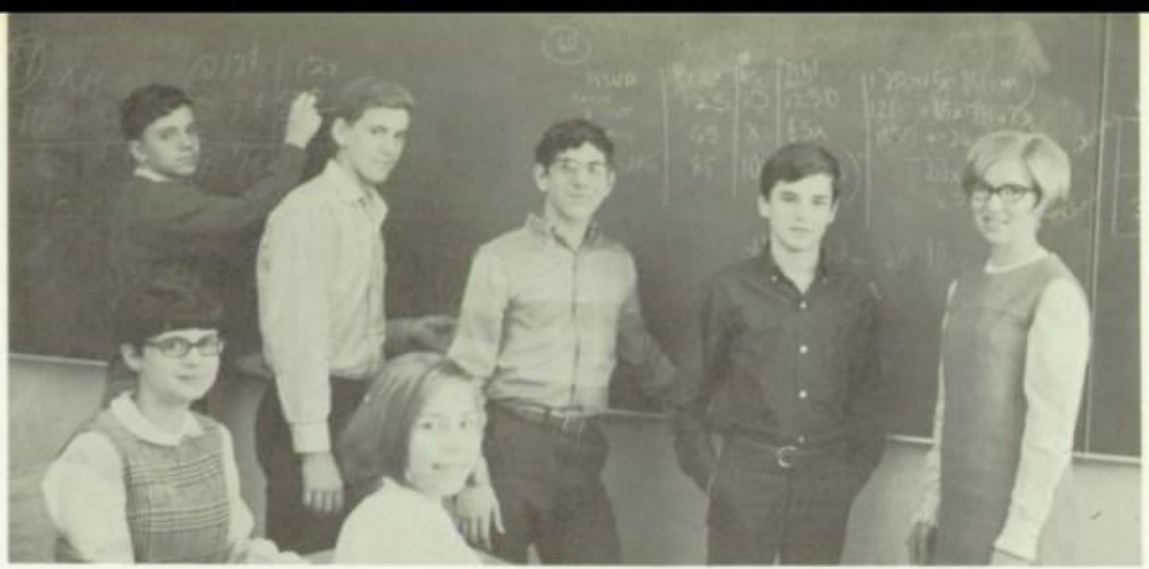

AVE continued to supply Niles East with movies and tapes. They learned to operate projectors, and serviced the school with this ability.

Service clubs are an important aspect of every high school, and Niles East was fortunate to have had some excellent ones this past year.

The Student Union Board was periodically busy planning the popular dances held on Saturday nights.

The Girls Service Organization focused most of their time on charity. They baked goods for the retired and the aged, and during Christmas season, they made stockings for orphans and the mentally retarded.

The Library Aids worked hard in the library this year. They devoted a free period each day to shelving books and to keeping the shelves neat and tidy, in their assigned sections. In addition, the aids helped other students find magazines and books.

The Medical Careers Club recieved medical experience during meetings in the nurse's office. They learned first aid and practiced administering medicine.

The Teachers of Tomorrow did their turn for humanity by spreading the spirit of scholarship. They learned about speaking, appearance, and classroom experiences.

Focus in on the Music Department

The Niles East Music Department was caught by the camera, while performing at many locations around the city this year. During the Christmas season the choir sang at the Museum of Science and Industry, and was televised singing at the Old Orchard Shopping Center. The Choir also sang at Temple Shaare Tikvah. The new look for the Choir this year was the gold blazers which they were able to purchase by selling their albums. A new addition to the music department this year was the Madrigal Singers. They are a group of boys and girls selected from the Choir. Some of the places they sang at during the year were the Henry Horner Field House and Oakton Center. There is also a Girl's Glee Club which consists of freshman girls, a boys barbershop quartet and a Mixed Chorus for boys and girls. The vocal and instrumental groups perform every year in the Winter Festival.

The Niles East Marching Band always strikes a pretty pose on the football field. They are only a small part of the instrumental department which includes the Concert Band, the Concert Orchestra, Intermediate Band and Cadet Band. They are always seen accompanying the Musical and Reflections Revelries.

Marching Band's second birthday

OCCASIONS

Flashback of the year

Mr. Colver congratulates Jeannie Jungwirth, the new Homecoming Queen.

The success of the Homecoming '68 weekend was achieved as a result of the combined efforts of this year's Homecoming Committee, Senior Cabinet, and the faculty. The student body burst with energy and school spirit at the pep assembly held Thursday, October 17 where plans for the weekend were announced and this year's queen, Jeanne Jungwirth, was presented.

Although some work was done on floats the week preceding Homecoming weekend, the students worked feverishly all day Friday, Friday night, and early Saturday morning to complete the floats before the judging at the end of the parade through Skokie. Students gathered at the Old Orchard Theater parking lot where most viewed the finished floats with a mixture of pride, excitement, fatigue, and relief. The long hours of planning, building, stapling, and not sleeping will be long remembered by all.

Homecoming '68: a wild wild weekend for East

Mr. Vance leads the Marching Band in a spirited march tune.

Eight thirty p.m., Saturday, October 19 climaxed an exciting Homecoming weekend as Senior Cabinet presented "Groovin", this year's Homecoming Dance. Homecoming goers danced to the music of Bob Bullard and His Orchestra. The girls' gym was decorated for the dance by members of Senior Cabinet with flashing lights and psychedelic posters.

The high-point of the dance was reached when Jeanne Jungwirth was crowned as Homecoming Myra Flicht, Kathi Molitor, Diane Mortimer, and Joli Pzcerworski.

The students were tired after a hectic weekend of float building, parades, and football games. But fatigue didn't stop them from enthusiastically enjoying the successful "Groovin' '68."

The topic of discussion is the colorful coronation at the Homecoming Dance.

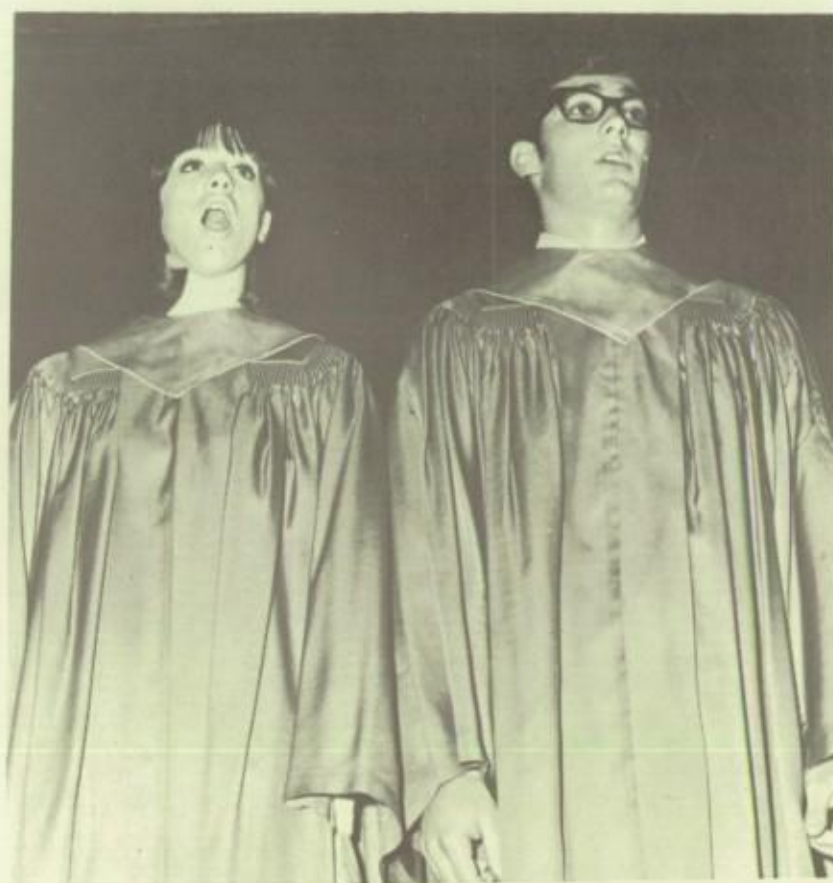

The camera reflects the majesty and excitement of the Queen and her court.

Holiday sounds echoed by Winter Music Festival

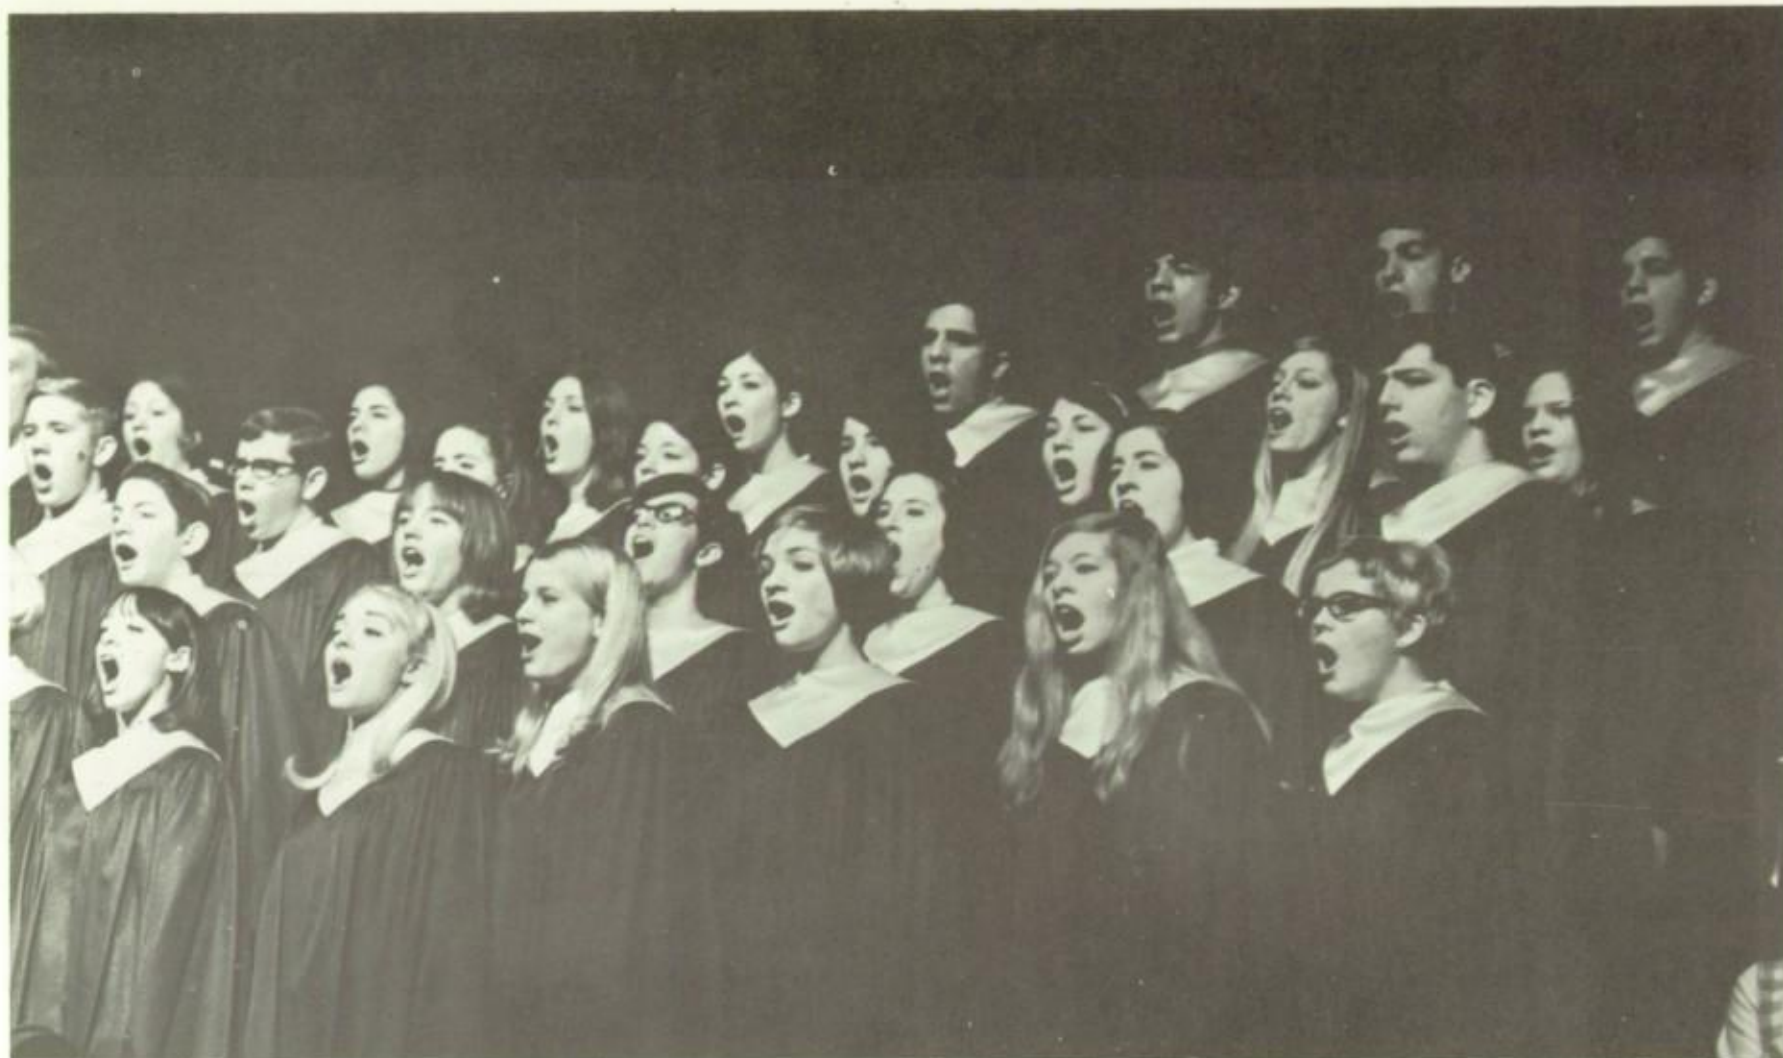

A Winter Music Festival isn't complete without Santa Claus in the audience.

Sue Ann Gershenson and Ernie Miller sing a melodious duet.

Three hundred voices of the music department are raised in joyful harmony at the Winter Music Festival.

The Concert Choir added to the sparkle of the Winter Festival when they sang for the members of the community.

A cold Sunday, December 15, 1968 was warmed by 300 voices as they rang forth in the Niles East Auditorium. Once again the annual Winter Music Festival brightened the holiday for parents, relatives, and friends attending the performance. The program was free of charge, the Music Department's traditional gift to the community. As has always been true in the past, the audience filled the auditorium. Thanks went to Niles East's fine Music Department headed by Mr. Auge, and his assistants Mr. Leo Provost, Mr. Stanley Carey, and Mr. Grant Vance. Credit went to the fine students who performed after having had only one rehearsal, outside the school. The participating groups included the Concert Choir, The Concert Orchestra, and the Concert Band, Mixed Chorus and the Freshman Girl's Glee. The instrumental groups used one hundred instruments in all. The choral and orchestral groups combined Handel's "Hallelujah Amen" from Judas Maccabeus and the traditional "Hallelujah Chorus" from the Messiah. These special pieces were chosen to represent the two dominant faiths of the students attending our school.

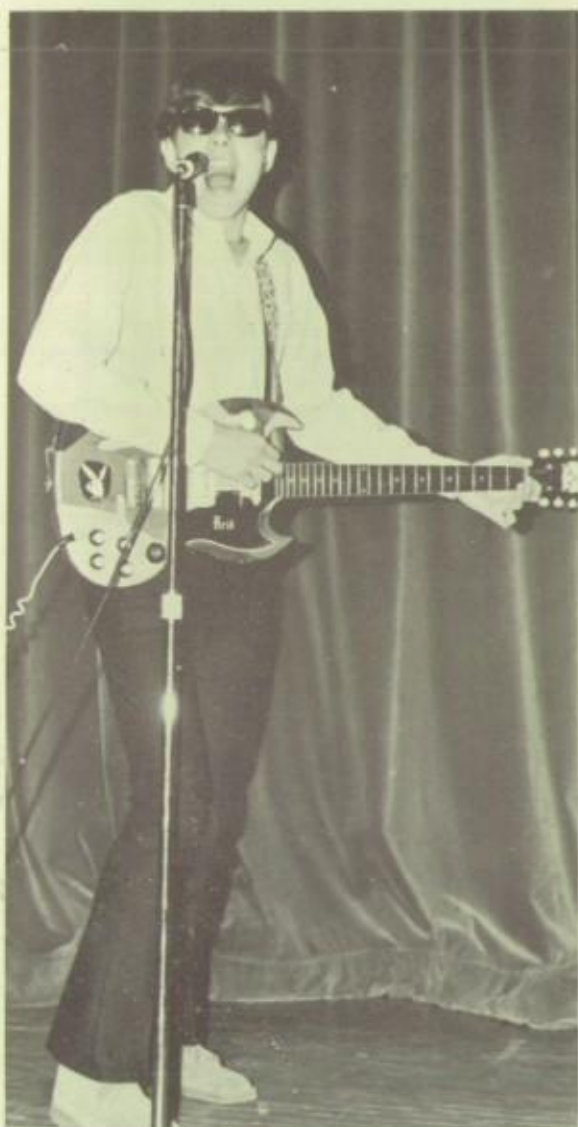

Al Ruscoe tunes his violin before playing Handel's "Hallelujah Amen."

Reflections '68: "Our Bag"

The Swingle Singers swing into another popular number.

Reid Goldstein and his electric guitar declare that they are "Born to Be Wild."

Concentrating intently on her fingers, Vicki Cohen plays McDowell's "Hungarian" for "Reflections."

The boy in the picture inspires Nancy Holland to sing "My Wonderful Guy."

Sue Ann Gershenson sings "The Hills are Alive" from The Sound of Music.

As we reached in "Our Bag" at Niles East, we found the highly talented cast singing "Let Me Entertain You." The musical variations included Shelley Ruben's singing of "Lascia, Ch'io Pianga," as well as Donna Lachman's rendition of "I Gotta Crow." The show culminated with the entire cast joining in the singing of "Star Spangled Spectacular."

This year, professionals judged the various acts, awarding first place to the Bob Kaiser Quintet for their playing of "The Lonely Bull" and "The Charmer." Sue Anne Gershenson placed second singing songs from "The Sound of Music." The third place award went to David Ginsberg and Cassie Diamond who sang a duet of "Niles Township PTA." The judges, Barney Pip, Eddie Ballantine, and Delores Eiler, made these awards on the basis of talent, creativeness, stage presence, and visual appeal.

Also responsible for the success of the show were the faculty sponsors: Mr. Proffitt, Director; Mr. Provost, The Stage Band; Miss Marshall, dancing; Mr. Carey, the singing portions; and Mr. Kent, Technical Advisor. Again, this year's Niles East "Reflections" can be termed a huge success.

The audience flipped as Nancy Becker and Ellen Miner sang "Going Out of My Head."

Marion Weiskopf gets an encouraging word from a fellow performer.

Bob Samborski and Bob Kaiser bring the sound of brass back to Niles East.

Eric and Cheryl Palles sing "Do You Love Me."

The writing committee pulls a "quickie" on the Reflection's audience.

Sue Kammer sings "Matchmaker, Matchmaker."

Folk singer Cheryl Kaufman plays and sings an impassioned solo.

Mike Balter intently practices his drumming for "Our Bag."

Marlene Hartman and Ed Rotberg pull another "quickie" for "Our Bag."

Antigone challenged a king

With its considerable literary and historic background, Jean Anouilh's "Antigone," the 1969 winter play, offered a dramatic challenge to the cast and audience. Jean Anouilh rewrote Sophocles' "Antigone" while under the German occupation of France during World War II. Antigone's struggle with Creon symbolized the French objection to the German "New Order." The "New Order" promised prosperity and happiness providing that the French people agreed to surrender their spiritual independence.

The play has a timeless quality. As a result, "Antigone" is as relevant today as when it was written by Sophocles. Like the rebellious youthful characters, Antigone and Haemon, young people today are expressing dissatisfaction with the "status quo" through protests.

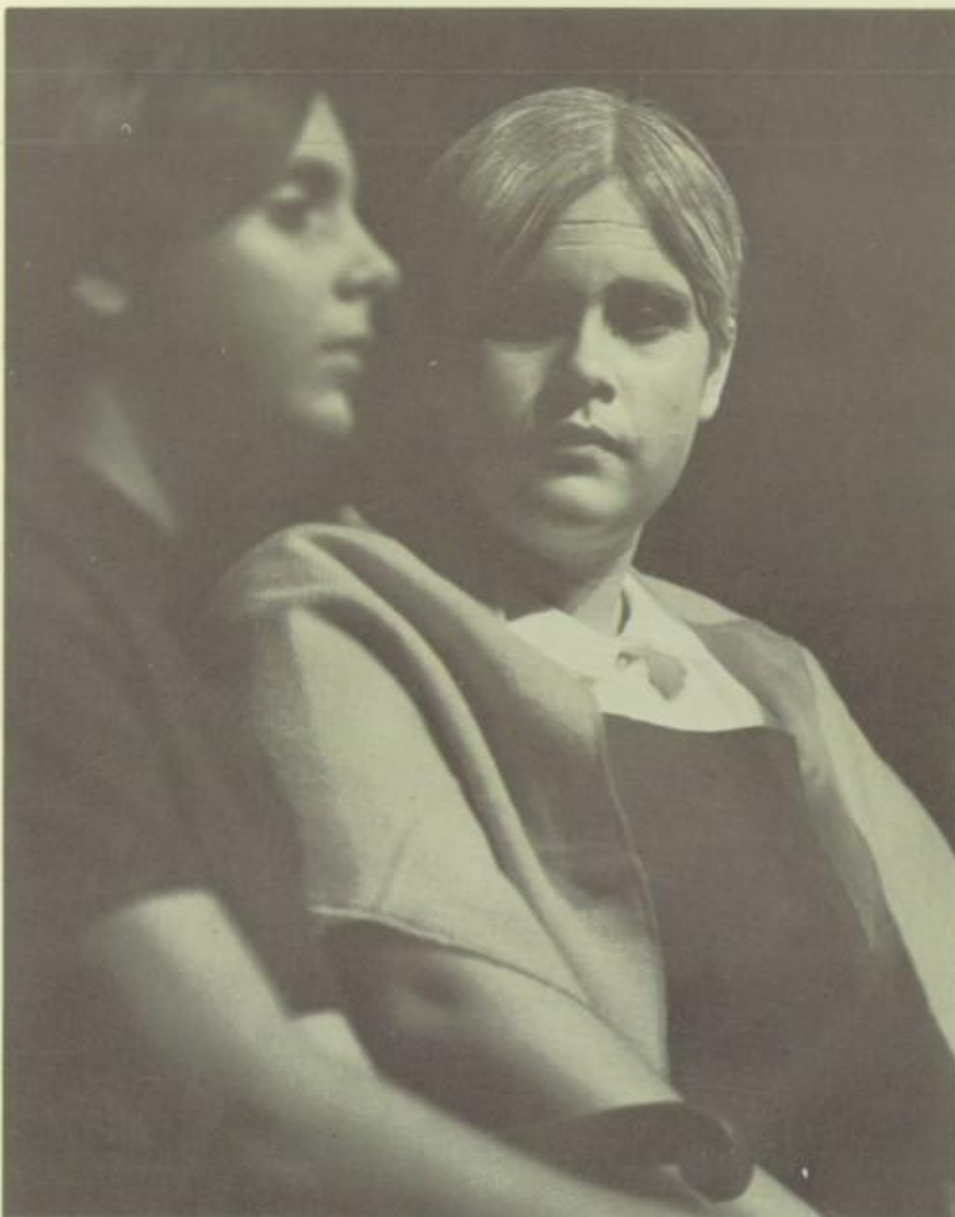

The mixing of traditional and contemporary costumes accentuated the timelessness of the play. With its many levels, the classically simple set created a variety of stage pictures. Under the direction of Mr. Profit, the highly successful winter play presented a situation with which the students of today can identify.

The first guard declares that he was just following orders.

The messenger (Leon Natker '70) declares that Haemon and Antigone are dead.

Antigone's nurse (Cindy Ellis '69) comforts her in her sorrow.

Antigone pledges her love to Haemon.

As she is watched over by two guards (Doug Hoffman '71 and Steve Schneiderman '70), Antigone reflects upon the life she is about to leave.

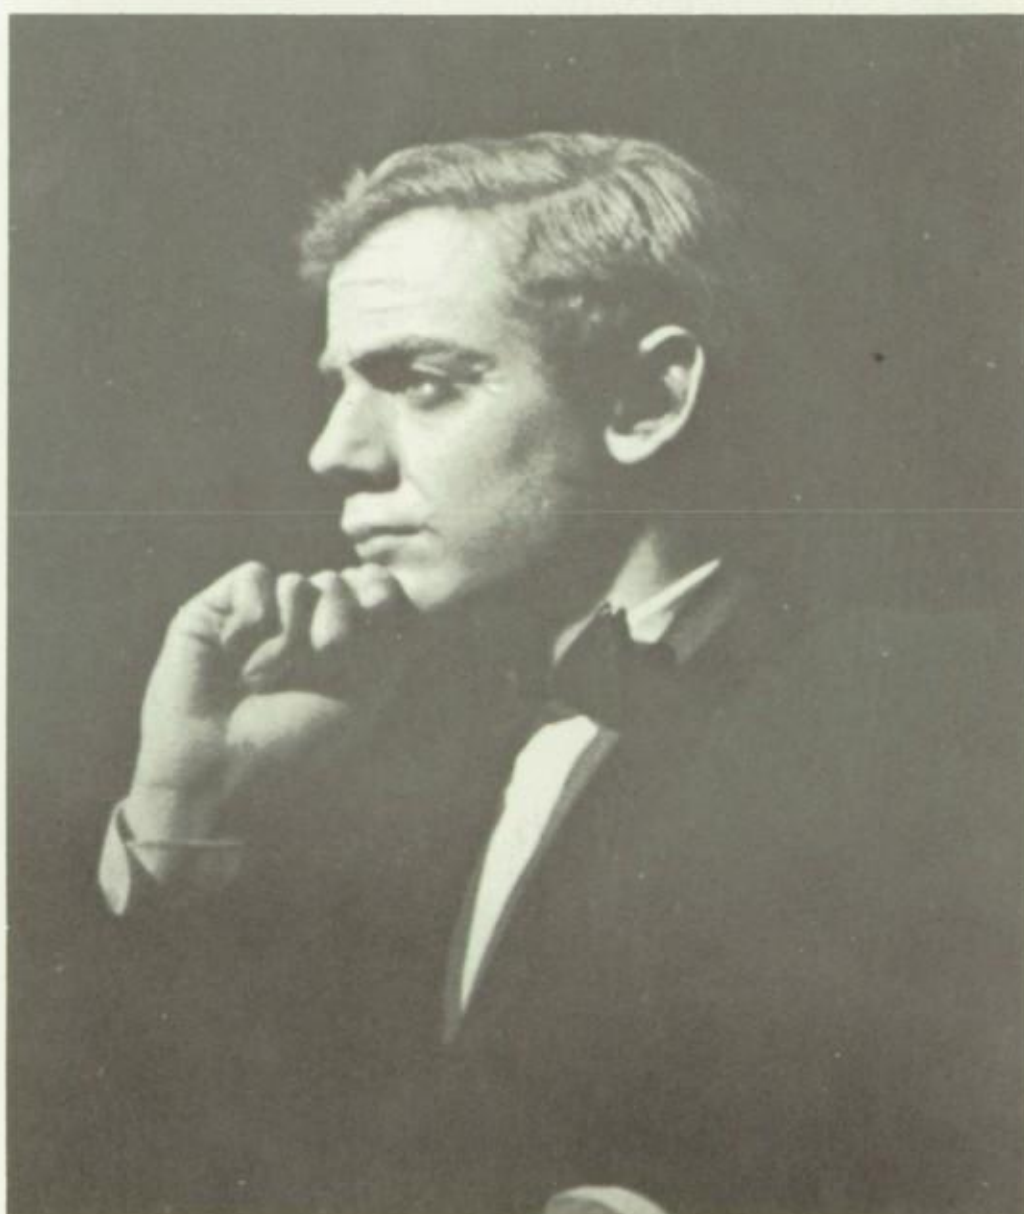

Antigone (Cheryl Palles '72) broods over her early death as the messenger looks on.

The generation gap is evident as Haemon lashes out at Creon.

Ismene watches as Antigone plans her brother's burial.

My Fair Lady: Loverly!

Eliza Doolittle expresses disdain as her father butters her up for a loan.

Even George Bernard Shaw's crusty old heart would have warmed to Niles East's scholarly and sparkling Higgins (Robert Beazley), fell in love with the new Eliza Doolittle. The conclusion of the play led one trayed by Debbie Gurwitz), into a cultured lady of high society. In Pygmalion fashion, her tutor, Henry Higgins (Robert Beazley), fell in love with the new Eliza Doolittle. The conclusion of the play led one to believe that eventually Eliza and Henry would be married, despite Eliza's brief romance with Freddy Eynesford-Hill (Ernie Miller) and her dire threats of "Just You wait, 'enry 'iggins."

Two revolving platforms, developed by Mr. Kent, overcame the technical difficulties encountered in making the set. The orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Auge, brilliantly highlighted the actual script. Mr. Auge interpreted the musical score and Mr. Profitt acted as general script director. A combination of the many efforts by the cast, orchestra, directors, and crews, made "My Fair Lady" one of the most memorable musicals Niles East has ever presented.

Alfie blissfully contemplates the fine life he leads.

The Maid's chorus sing the praises to Henry Higgins over his triumph at the ball.

Alfred Doolittle joyfully sings the praises of unemployment.

A frenzied Eliza Doolittle berates her tutor Henry Higgins in "Just You Wait."

At Ascot, the well-dressed members of high society congregate to watch the races and exchange formal gossip.

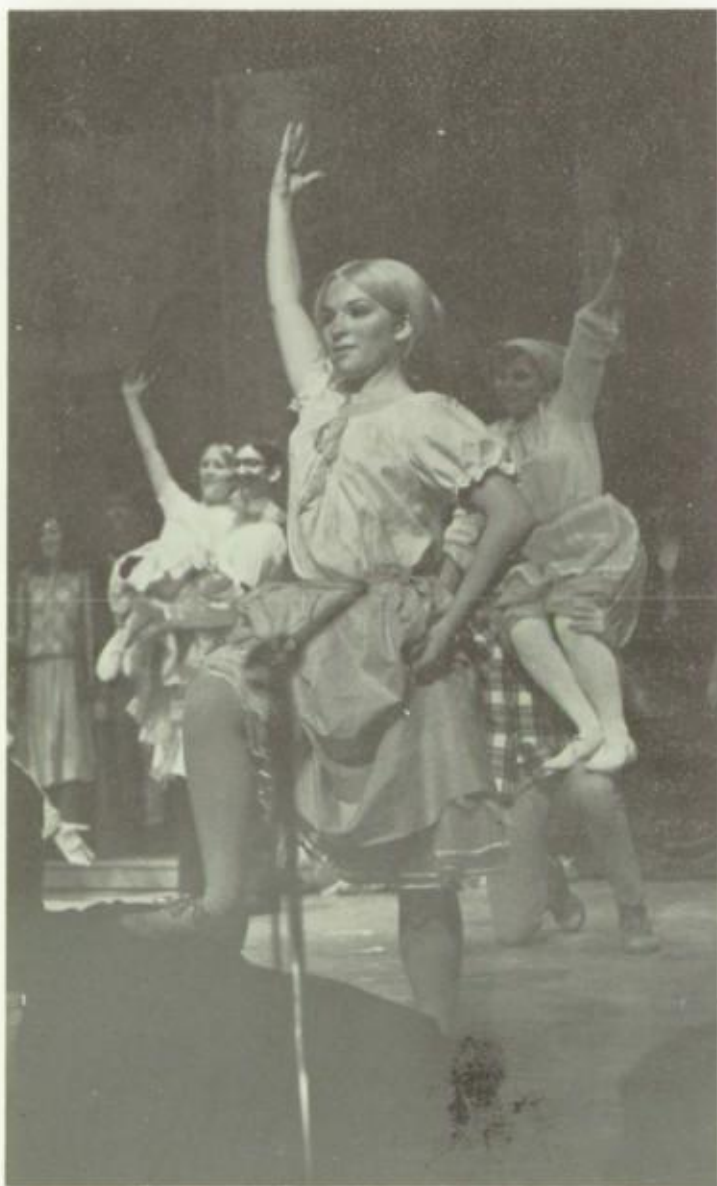

Henry Higgins confronts a sullen Eliza as she begins her metamorphosis.

A beaming Eliza joins Col. Pickering on Ascot's opening day.

Ascot's high-society ladies cheer on their favorites in a mincing tune.

Dancing and singing, the cockneys extol the virtues of "a little luck."

Gesturing angrily, Eliza declares that Henry Higgins is the cause of all her troubles.

Crew members signals for a light change to add interest to the scene.

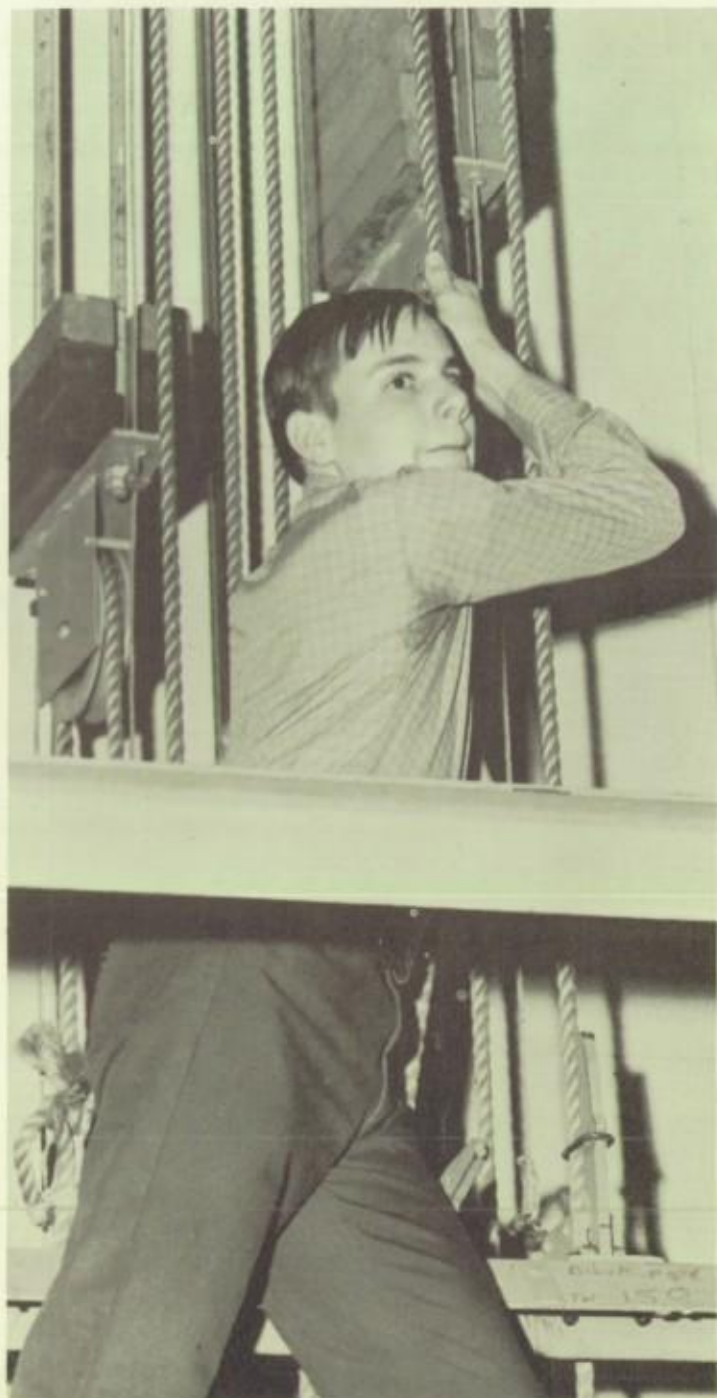

The many operations are prepared for the productions.

Ernie Miller bends over backward to assist in the delicate application of makeup for "My Fair Lady."

Tension mounts as a crew member awaits the signal to open the curtain and start the show.

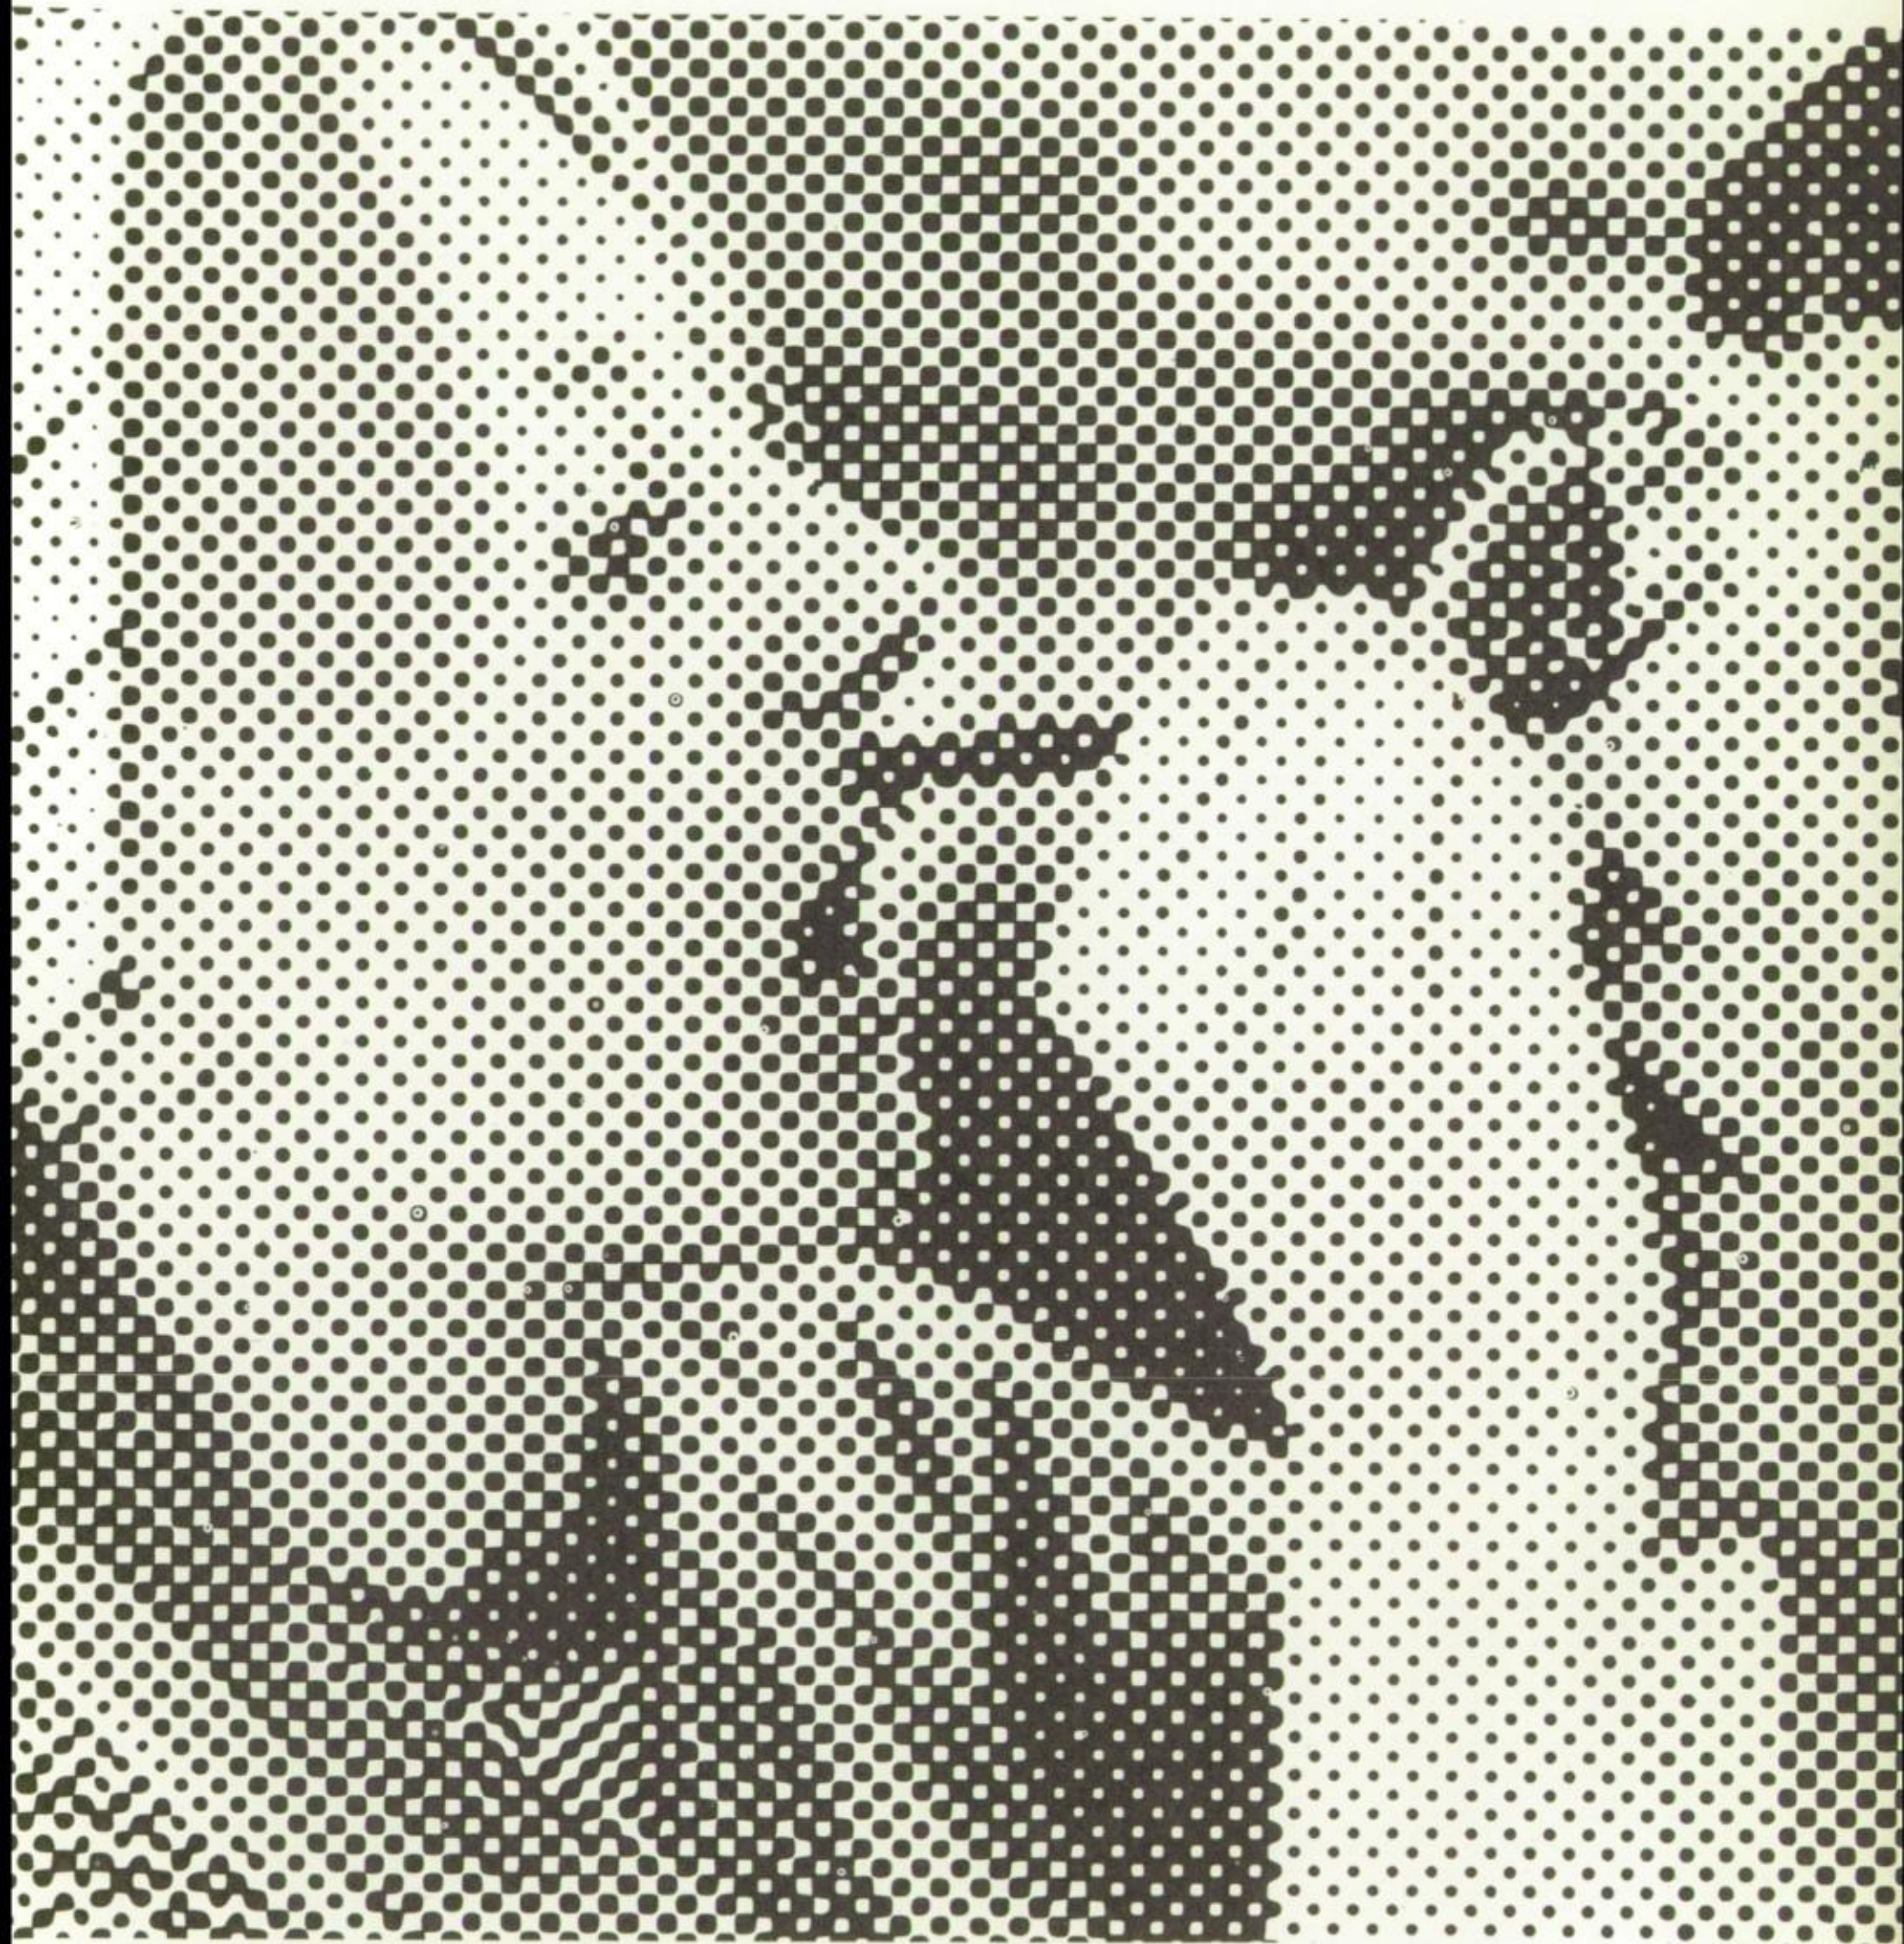

Staging a Niles East production involves a great deal more than simply performing. A trained group of people handled the technical aspects of the production of the plays. Members of Technis carried out the bulk of the back-stage tasks. Technis assumed responsibility for the lighting, scenery, and general handywork required to make a play seem professional. In order to become a member of Technis, one must devote more than twenty-five hours a week in developing skills and creating elaborate sets for the various productions.

For "My Fair Lady," a major production, Technis people worked diligently preparing sets during the two months preceding opening night. The regular crew of Technis workers controlled our complex, sophisticated theatrical equipment. To master the giant control board that regulates the lighting for the Auditorium, one must be a mechanical under-study for almost two years.

In addition to those who worked as members of Technis, members of make-up, costume, and publicity crews contributed to the high quality of Niles East productions. Those on specific crews were selected upon application by the directors of each of the various performances. Everyone who worked behind-the-scenes toward the betterment of "My Fair Lady," "House at Pooh Corner," "Our Bag," and "Antigone" deserves a great deal of credit for jobs well-done.

Production crews spotlight performances

The correct placement of eye makeup seems to be an artistic achievement for the make-up crew.

Carnival excitement: Panic '68

The Carnival spirit reached its culmination late in April when various organizations joined together to sponsor the school carnival--Panic '68. This year's carnival booths focused upon many new and profitable ideas, along with the enjoyable traditional ideas.

Sophomore Cabinet drew tremendous crowds with its "Sponge-Throw." Volunteering teachers placed themselves behind a platform to be used as the target for sopping sponges. Drawing enthusiastic response, the Sophomore Cabinet booth proved to be highly successful.

As in previous years, Student Council carried out its annual "Fishbowl-Throw," using live goldfish as prizes. Adding to the fun and excitement were the booths of AFS, French Club, GAA, Senior Cabinet, and various other hard-working organizations. Prizes ranged from hit records to cameras. As an added attraction for those present, Seniors prepared a short film centering around the life of a typical student.

The participating clubs and organizations raised a considerable sum of money while creating a true carnival spirit at Niles East.

Miss Strahan is bombarded by wet sponges as students get sweet revenge.

Jon Darmstadter and Gary Deutsch encourage students as they try to win a goldfish.

Mr. Richardson tries his luck at the GAA booth.

Leon Natker barbers with the crowd as he tries to sell the choir's record, "Dimensional Sounds."

A crowd gathers around the famous Student Council's Fish 'n Fin Booth.

From Queen Sue Isaacs and King Sam Warshawer are surrounded by their court.

Students gather around the refreshment table as Rick Rice serves his date, Ann Benzeev.

Prom: Highland Park Country Club

Overwhelmed by their victory, Sue and Sam react accordingly.

"When Hearts are Young" was the theme of last year's Junior-Senior Prom. On May 24th hundreds of formal-clad students walked through the doors of the Highland Park Country Club into an unforgettable evening. They danced to the music of Bob Bullard and His Orchestra.

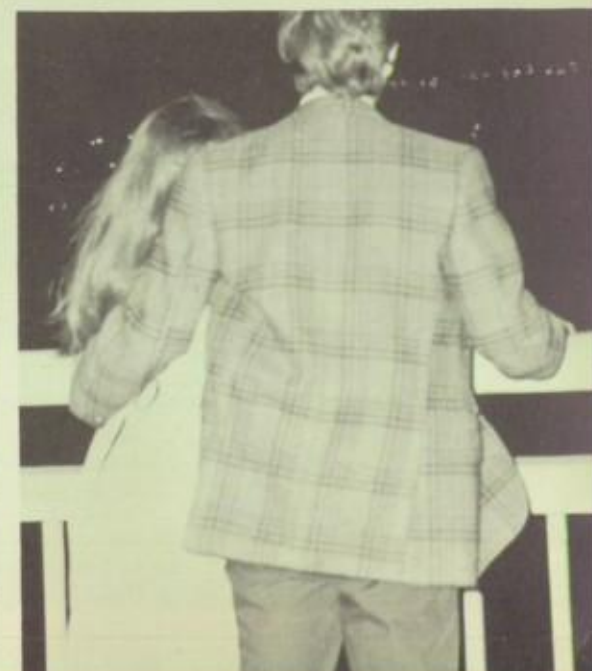

The highlighting event of the evening took place when Sam Warshawer and Sue Isaacs were named Prom King and Queen. Their court consisted of Tom Weichman, Linda Van Cleave, Pat Lustman, and Laurie Migdow.

The Prom was the culmination of many months of hard work by the members of Junior Cabinet. Their main fund raising activity was the Tommy James and the Shondells concert held in January. As Sophomores, the Cabinet raised money by selling class rings and buttons along with the pennants sold every year.

Following the Prom dance, most couples departed for a gala evening. Many spent the rest of Prom weekend engaged in fun activities such as boating, watching the sun rise, and touring museums and zoos.

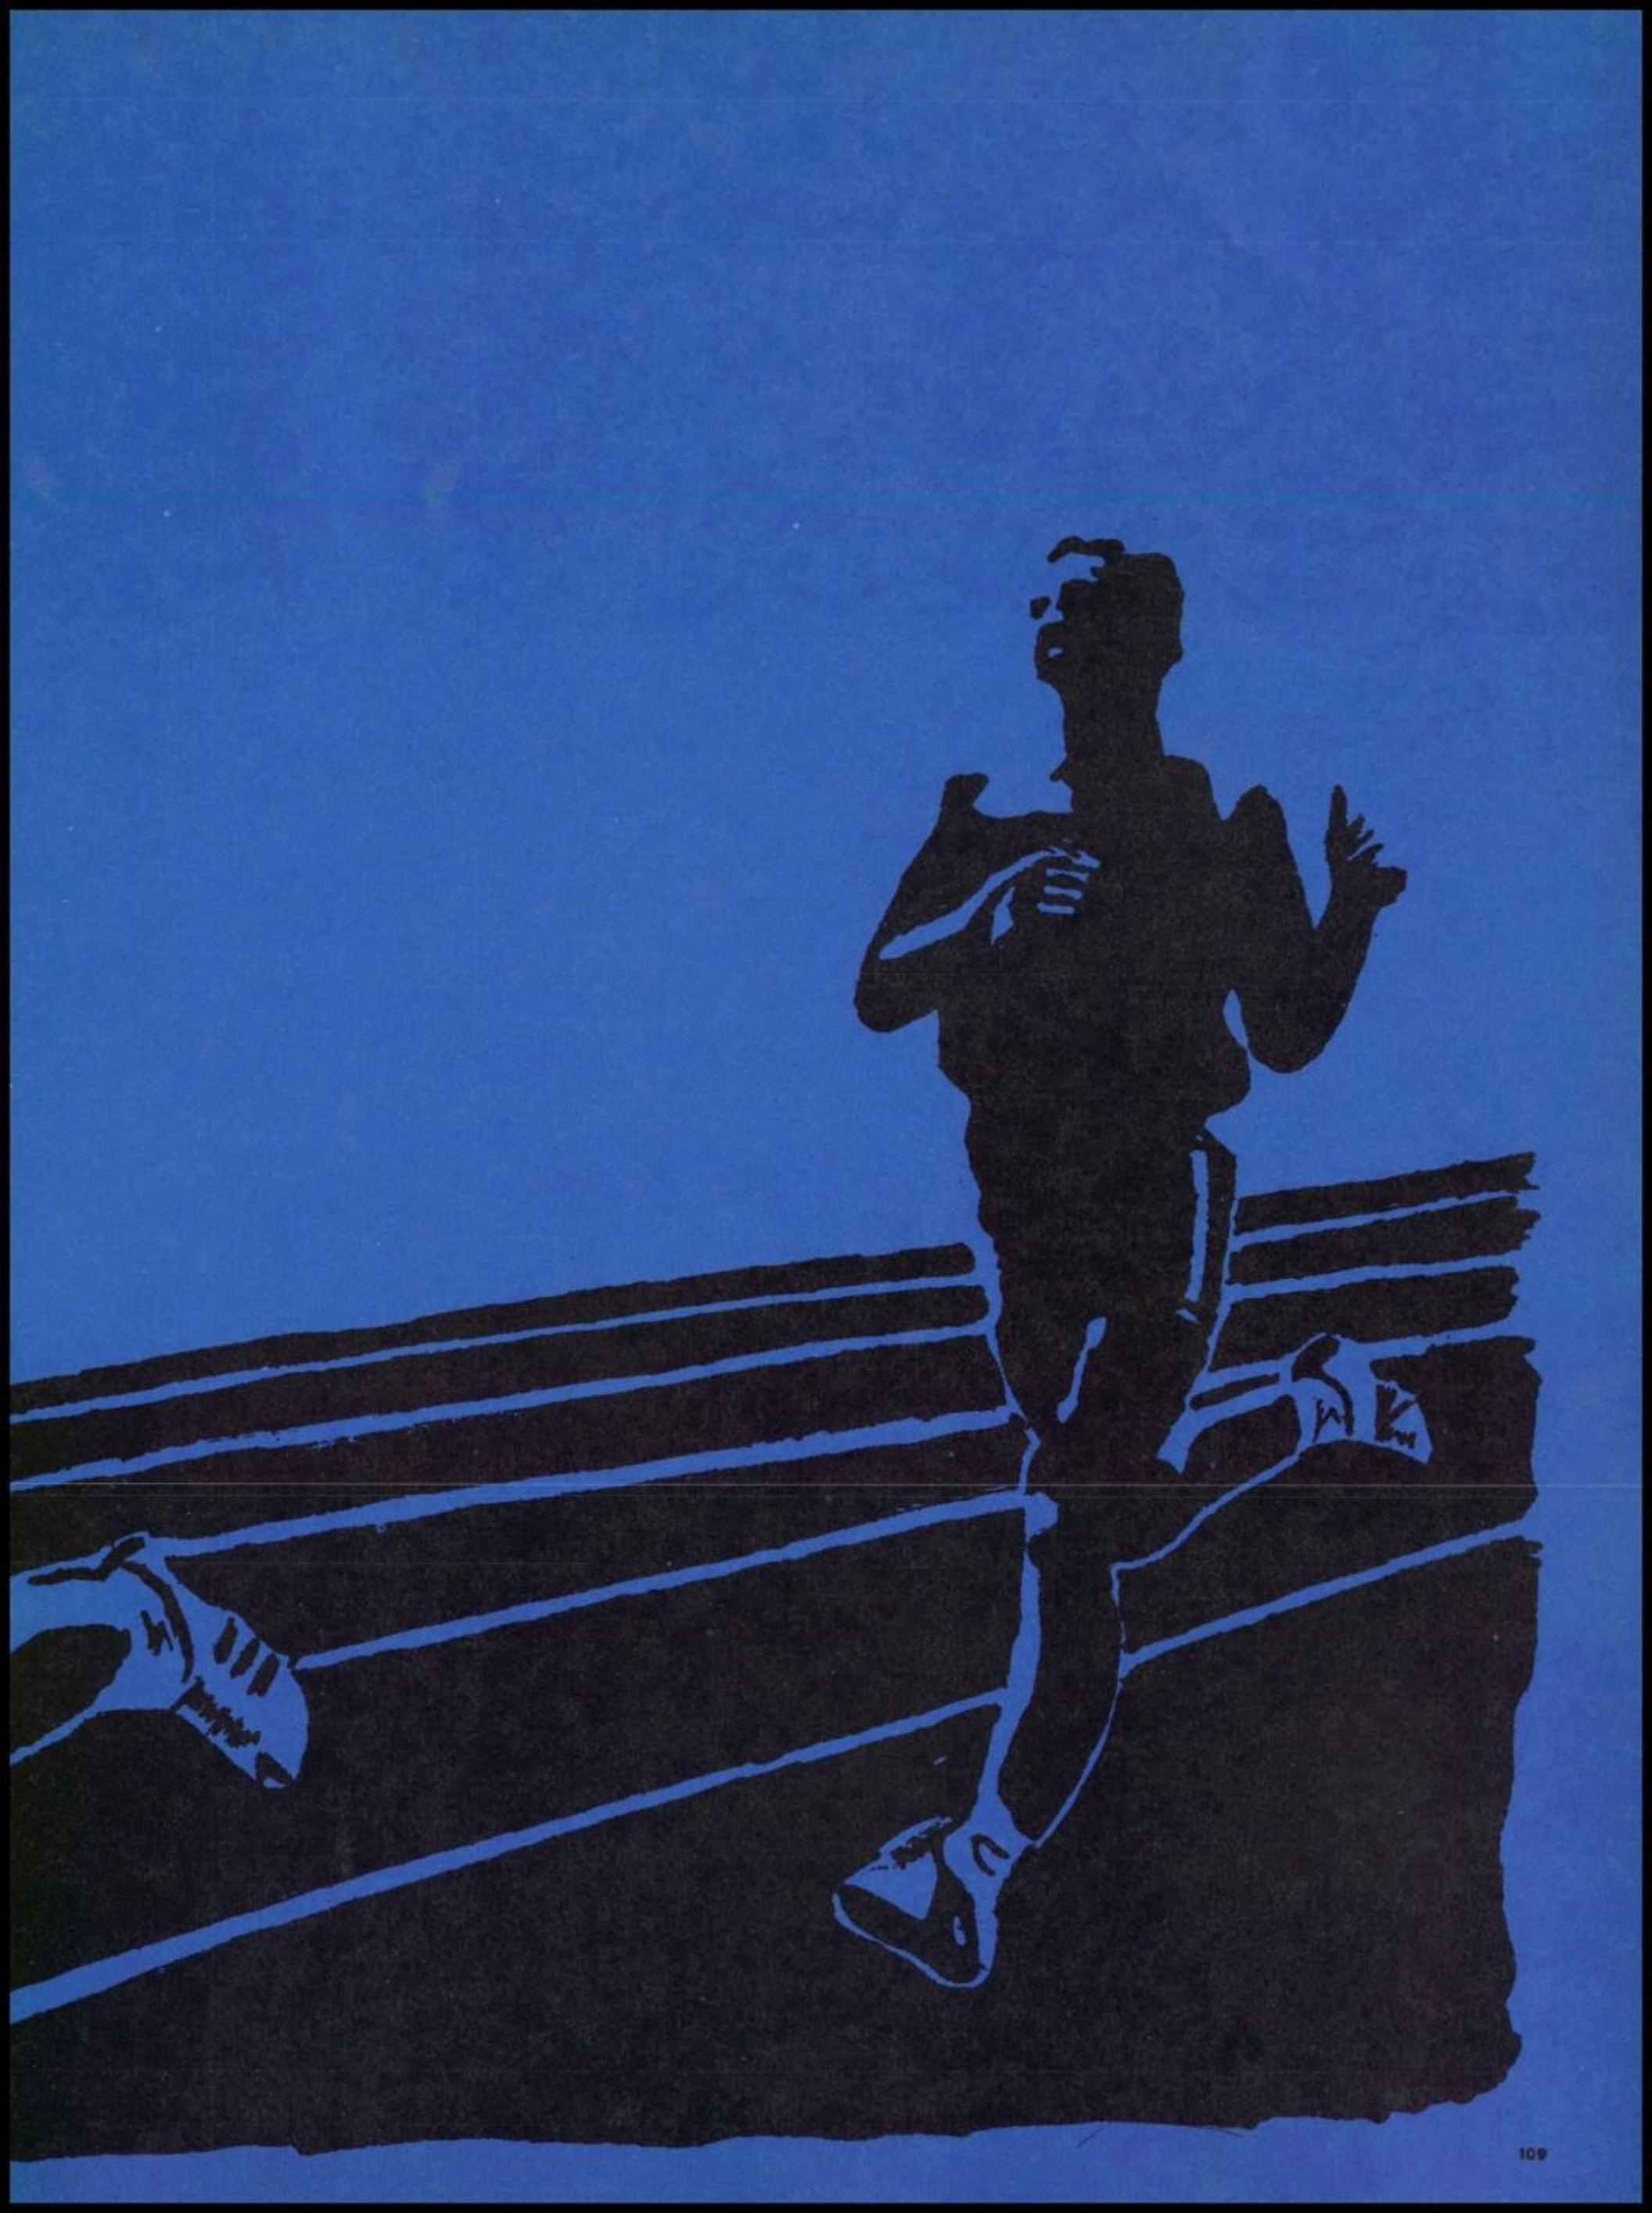

Linda Mandell and her escort relax their weary feet after a long, enjoyable evening of dancing.

For the second year in a row the cries of 'HIT' rang out from the students of Niles East and the 1968 football team did just that. For the second straight year the Trojans finished with three wins, the most compiled in one season by the Men of Troy in the last eight years. The victories were against Morton East, Waukegan, and Niles North.

Coach Harkema stated that he was very happy with the team's success, although the gridmen didn't meet their expectations. The coach was also very pleased with the performances of Todd Bonner, Rick Rice, Ed Thiry, and Gary Lonquist, who were selected to the All-Suburban League team. Rich Becker received honorable mention.

A Junior Varsity program was recently started with Coach Patterson calling the plays. Coach said that the program was developed to give the juniors experience for next year's team. Both Coach Harkema and Coach Patterson are enthusiastic about a bright future. With the success of both gridiron teams, the Trojans proved that Niles East is number one.

These sophomore Trojans are getting ready to make a great "hit". This past season Troy's sophs demonstrated their hitting power to Waukegan.

Once again the tough Suburban League proved to be an obstacle to success for the Sophomore football team. While hampered throughout the season by a lack of speed, the Trojans had a disappointing year, winning two and losing six.

The highlight of the season was the victory over Waukegan in which Troy handed the Bulldogs a 20 to 7 defeat. This marked the first time in recent Niles East history that a Trojan Sophomore football team has beaten Waukegan.

Such outstanding players as tackle Pat Hanley, fullback Mike Salterelli, and guard Brad Soltis should prove to be a valuable asset to the 1969-1970 Varsity football team, as it carries on the tradition of "hitting".

Juniors and sophs will provide next year's varsity team with strong men.

Freshman Jeff Harstein makes an attempt to rip down an opposing player.

The frosh football "B" team was a football team in motion. They were always moving in the direction of the goal line. Although the team was only able to muster up a record of 1-4-2, they showed continuous improvement as the season developed.

The frosh "A" football team took a journey through the rugged Suburban League for the first time in their brief high school careers. They enjoyed a victorious season as they compiled a record of 4-3. Through hard work and perseverance the mighty Trojans toned down the perennial Waukegan Bulldogs 38-6.

The boys worked hard day after day, hour after hour, to become the rough and well coached team that they proved to be. With the growth of the boys and the expanded football program at Niles East, all Trojan boosters should look ahead three more years when the mighty Trojans will slide past the state's best teams, including the Evanston Wildkits.

This year's cross country team suffered from a lack of experience; only three members had the previous experience needed. The strongest runners on the squad included one junior, two sophomores, and two freshman.

The outlook for the future is bright. All the members of the squad who will be returning will have gained the valuable experience which was so sorely missed this past year. Toward the end of the season the harriers showed the aggressiveness that will pay off next year. In their last meet the squad finally jelled as a team. If this is any indication of the way next year's team will be developed, we can look for a successful cross country team in the future.

John Hutter drives for the basket as Steve Goldsholl and Proviso players look on.

Despite a lack of height, the Niles East Trojans basketball team compiled a respectable 7-15 season's record. With important wins over rivals Niles West and North, the Trojans proved themselves to be the townships champs.

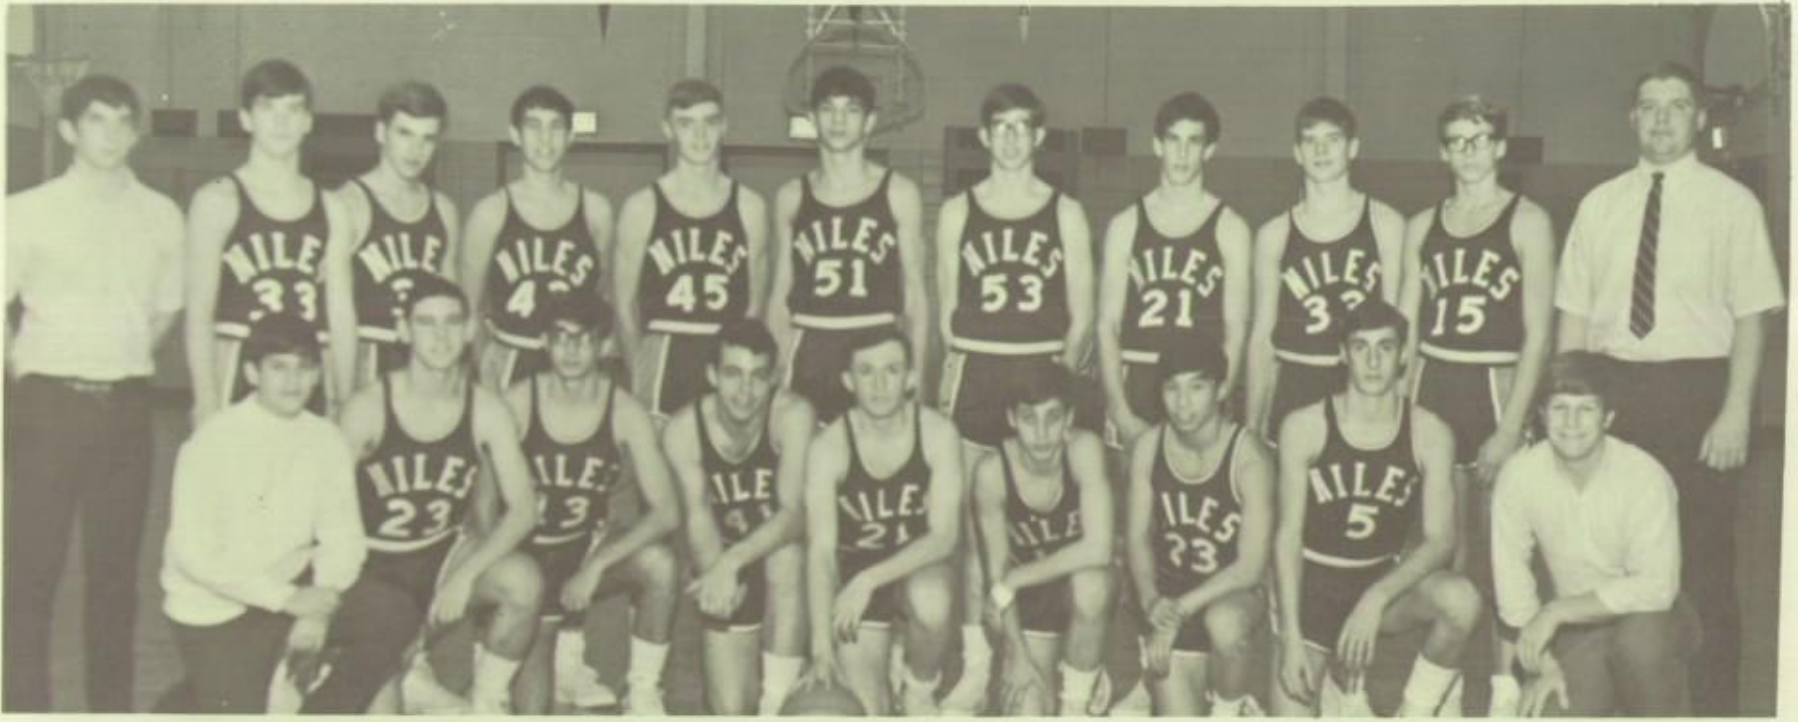

With scrappy defensive work, good attitude, and excellent hustle the men of Troy proved themselves to be victorious in three conference games, the biggest victory coming in last game of the season against Evanston, 77-75.

Led by Seniors John Hutter and Bob Vossell the cagers really never lost hope. Vossell developed to be the team's top rebounder. Hutter was named to the All-Suburban League Honorable Mention and finished second in league scoring.

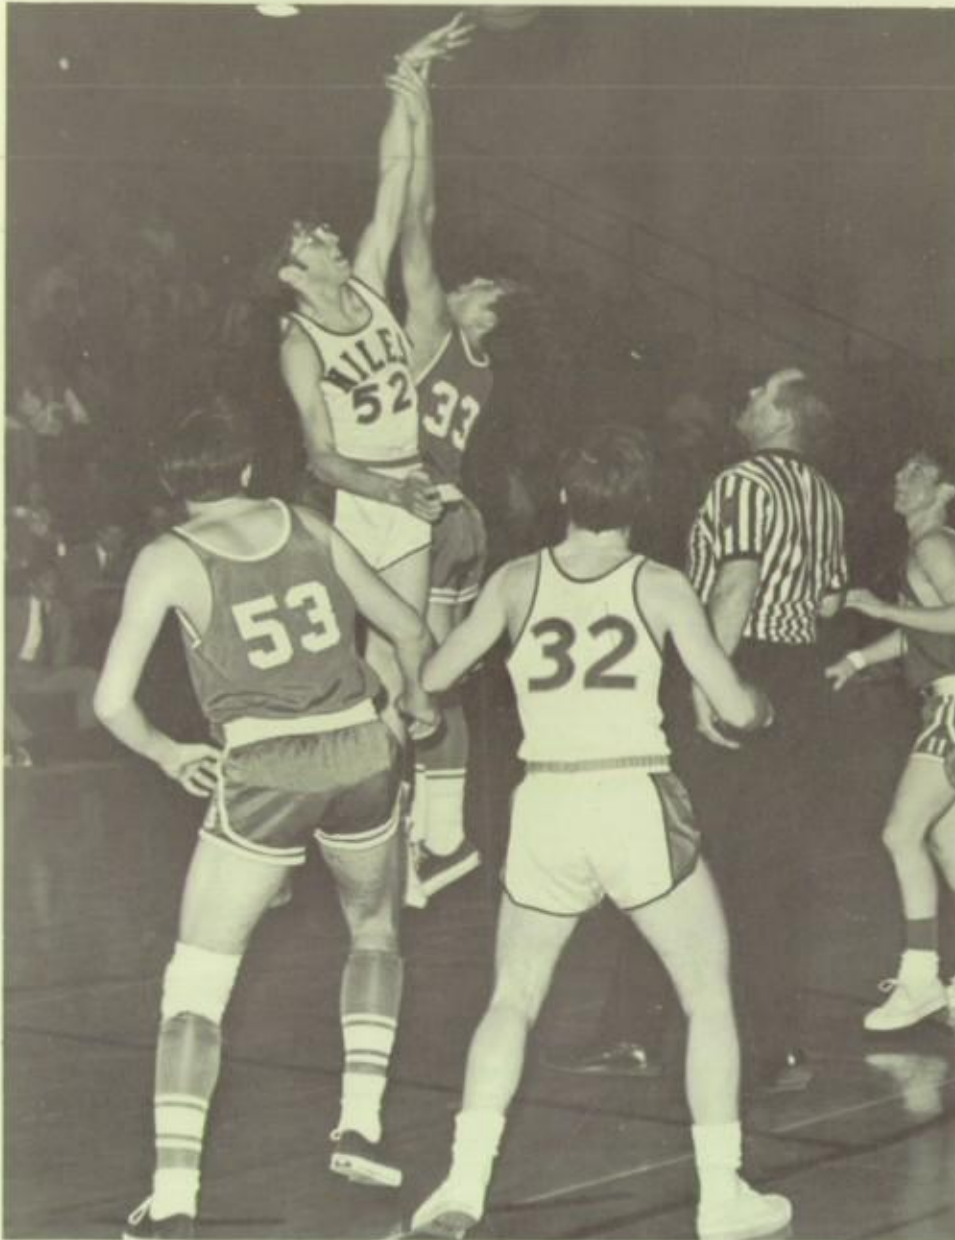

Coach Pooley feels with Juniors Mike Dooley, Norm McCray, Steve Goldsholl, and Rich Rothstein returning next year, the Trojans have good possibilities for a brighter season.

Sophs hope to mature for S.L.

Sophomore Basketball. BACK ROW: M. Berman, D. Mayer (Manager), H. Romanek, M. Rosenthal, W. Elliot, J. Capezio, S. Weiner, M. Maylahn, J. Belue, M. Korta, Coach Mackie. FIRST ROW: I. Steinberg, J. A Niles center and his Highland Park opponent begin the game with a jump.

After an opening season loss to Glenbrook South, the Sophomore basketball team rolled to impressive triumphs over Niles West, Niles North, Glenbrook North, and the always tough Waukegan Bulldogs. From then on it was all downhill as the Sophomore roundballers were only able to capture one more victory over Oak Park. A valiant effort by the entire team made a ten point loss to the Evanston league champs look as though there was much promise, as well as talent on the Sophomore team. With improvement in some of the fundamental skills, this Trojan basketball team will be ready for the tough Suburban League competition.

After gaining two successive non-league victories, the Frosh "A" ran into tough foes as they began Suburban League competition. After an opening triumph over Waukegan the young roundballers could not grasp victory until the final games of the year. Revenge was sweet as the Frosh "A" knocked off Evanston by two points in the final game of the season. With the growing improvement of skills and the combination of players from the Class of '71, 1971 should be a banner year for Trojan basketball.

Seymore Rifkind gains first in state in the all-around event.

Behind two first places, a third and a fifth place, by Seymour Rifkind, the Trojan gymnasts captured third place in the state gymnastic meet. The Trojans, who finished third in Suburban League competition behind Evanston and New Trier, got revenge as they finished above both of these powerful teams in the all important state meet. Other valuable team points were garnished by Al Weiner, fifth place on trampoline and Bob Quintinales who was ninth in All-Around and fifth in P-Bars. Two important goals were set by Seymour at the start of the year and he ascertained both of them by placing first in parallel bars and All-Around. This truly makes Seymour the best high school gymnast in not only Illinois but also the whole continental United States.

Bob Quintinales displays his fine form.

Frosh 1st, Sophs 2nd in S.L.

Sandy Gallai slides into the "L" position.

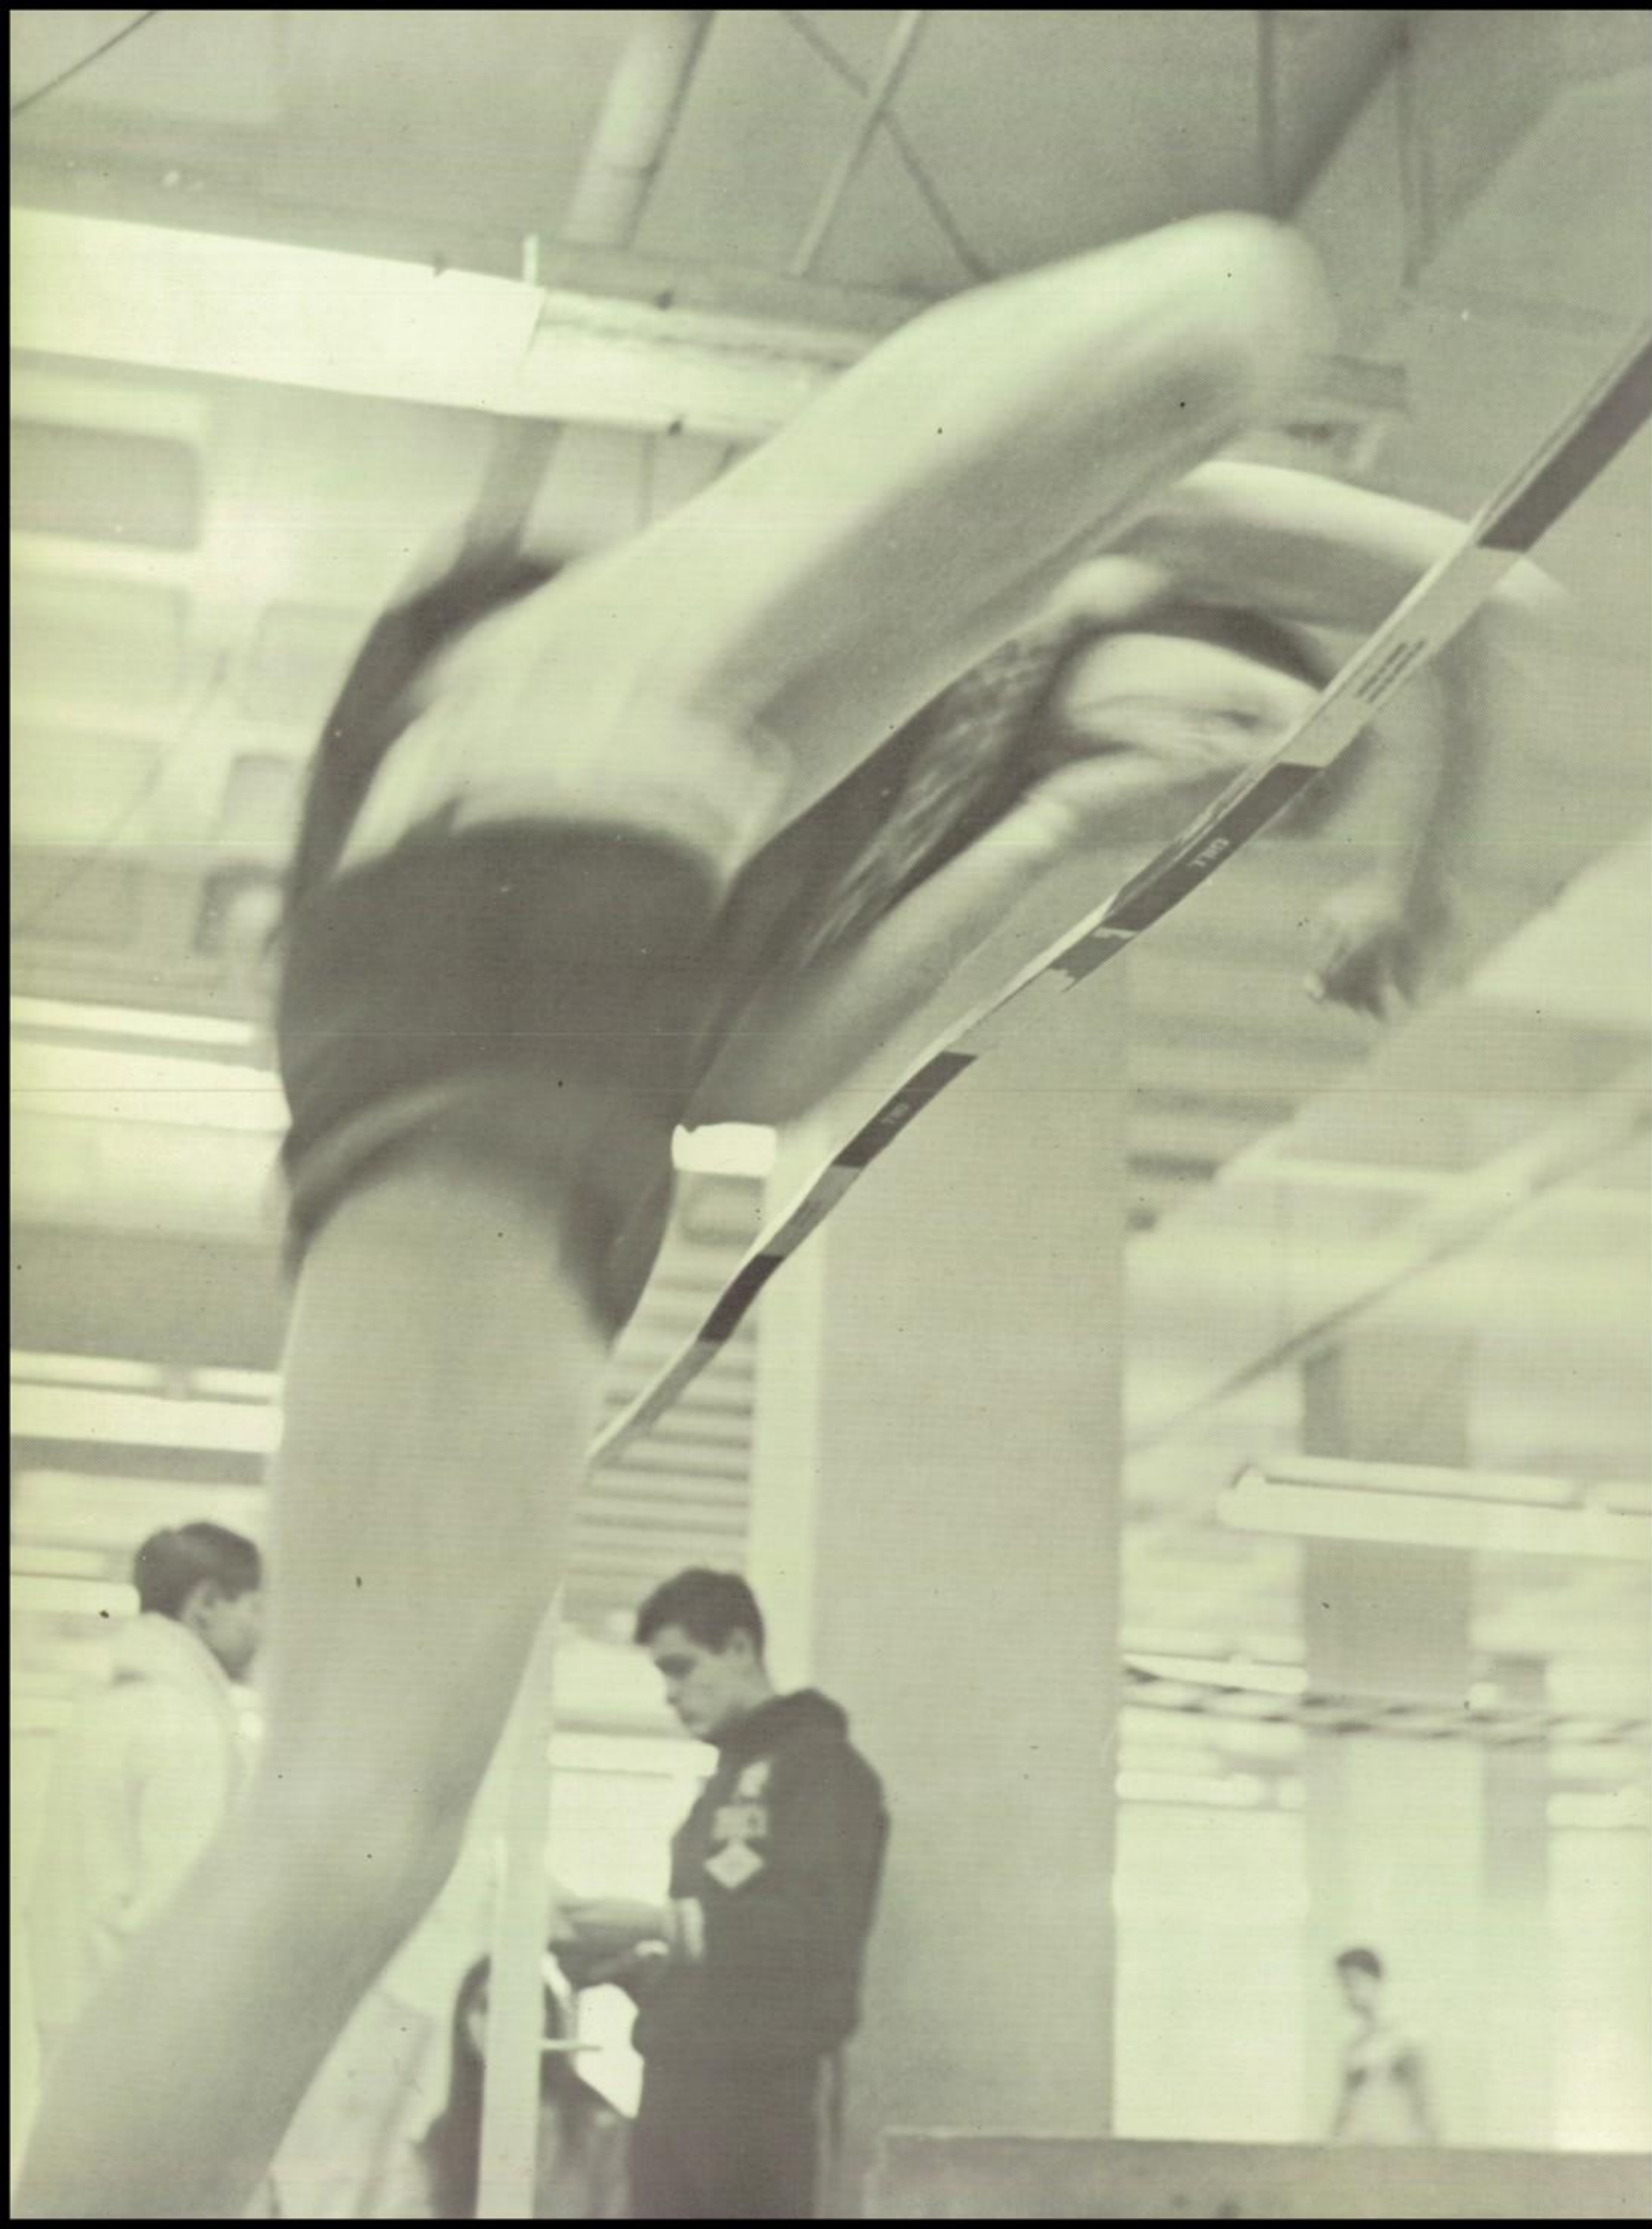

Sophomore Bruce Epstein is flying high on the H-bar.

The Frosh finished the year as the finest in Suburban League as they knocked off Evanston in the final meet of the year. Consistant performances by Clay Porter keep the gymnasts on top of the league all year.

The Sophomores, second in the League, were led by Sandy Gallai, Dave Cech, and Larry Krause. Another strong performance was consistantly portrayed by Tom Tripp on both trampoline and tumbling. With the combination of the Frosh-Soph gymnasts, Niles can expect to see East appearing over and over again near the top in the state meets.

Frosh-Soph Gymnastics. BACK ROW: S. Weisman, S. Mayer, M. Sternfeld, M. Rielinski, B. Frank, G. Raphael, C. Porter, J. Hartstein, K. Shiffman, B. Epstein, D. Cech, B. Chemers, M. Moss. SECOND ROW: J. The 1969 Varsity Track team, under new coach Dean Slavens, will be focusing on the future. On the Freshmen level are the outstanding sprinters Rick Shane, Jeff Hartstein, and Jerry Look. Also Bob Henry has looked very impressive in the high jump.

On the Varsity level, leading the way have been Bob Mincberg and Chris Short, running the half-mile, and Jasper Tavalacci, running the quarter-mile.

With these contributions, the future of the Niles East Tracksters is bright.

Steve Rose is putting the shot.

Hampered by an injury to star swimmer Jim Hawkins, this year's varsity tanksters finished with a mediocre 7-6 record. They were 3-4 in the Suburban League placing sixth and 4-2 in the non-conference meets. The highlights of the season came when the men of Troy captured first in the Niles East Pentathlon. The tanksters were led by Wayne Thomas who placed first in the overall competition, Lee Bollow who took third and Jim Simon who came in sixth, but only entered two events and won them both, the 400-yard medley relay and the 200-yard free relay. In the Suburban League meet they ended up in seventh place. Wayne Thomas took second in the 100-yard butterfly and Paul Katz placed third in the 50-yard freestyle. The 400-yard relay composed of Thomas, Katz, Jim Simon and Rick Shubert also took third. In the district meet Thomas took first in the butterfly, Katz second in the 50-yard freestyle and the 200-yard medley relay third. Both Thomas and Katz qualified for the state meet in which Thomas placed eighth and Katz ninth.

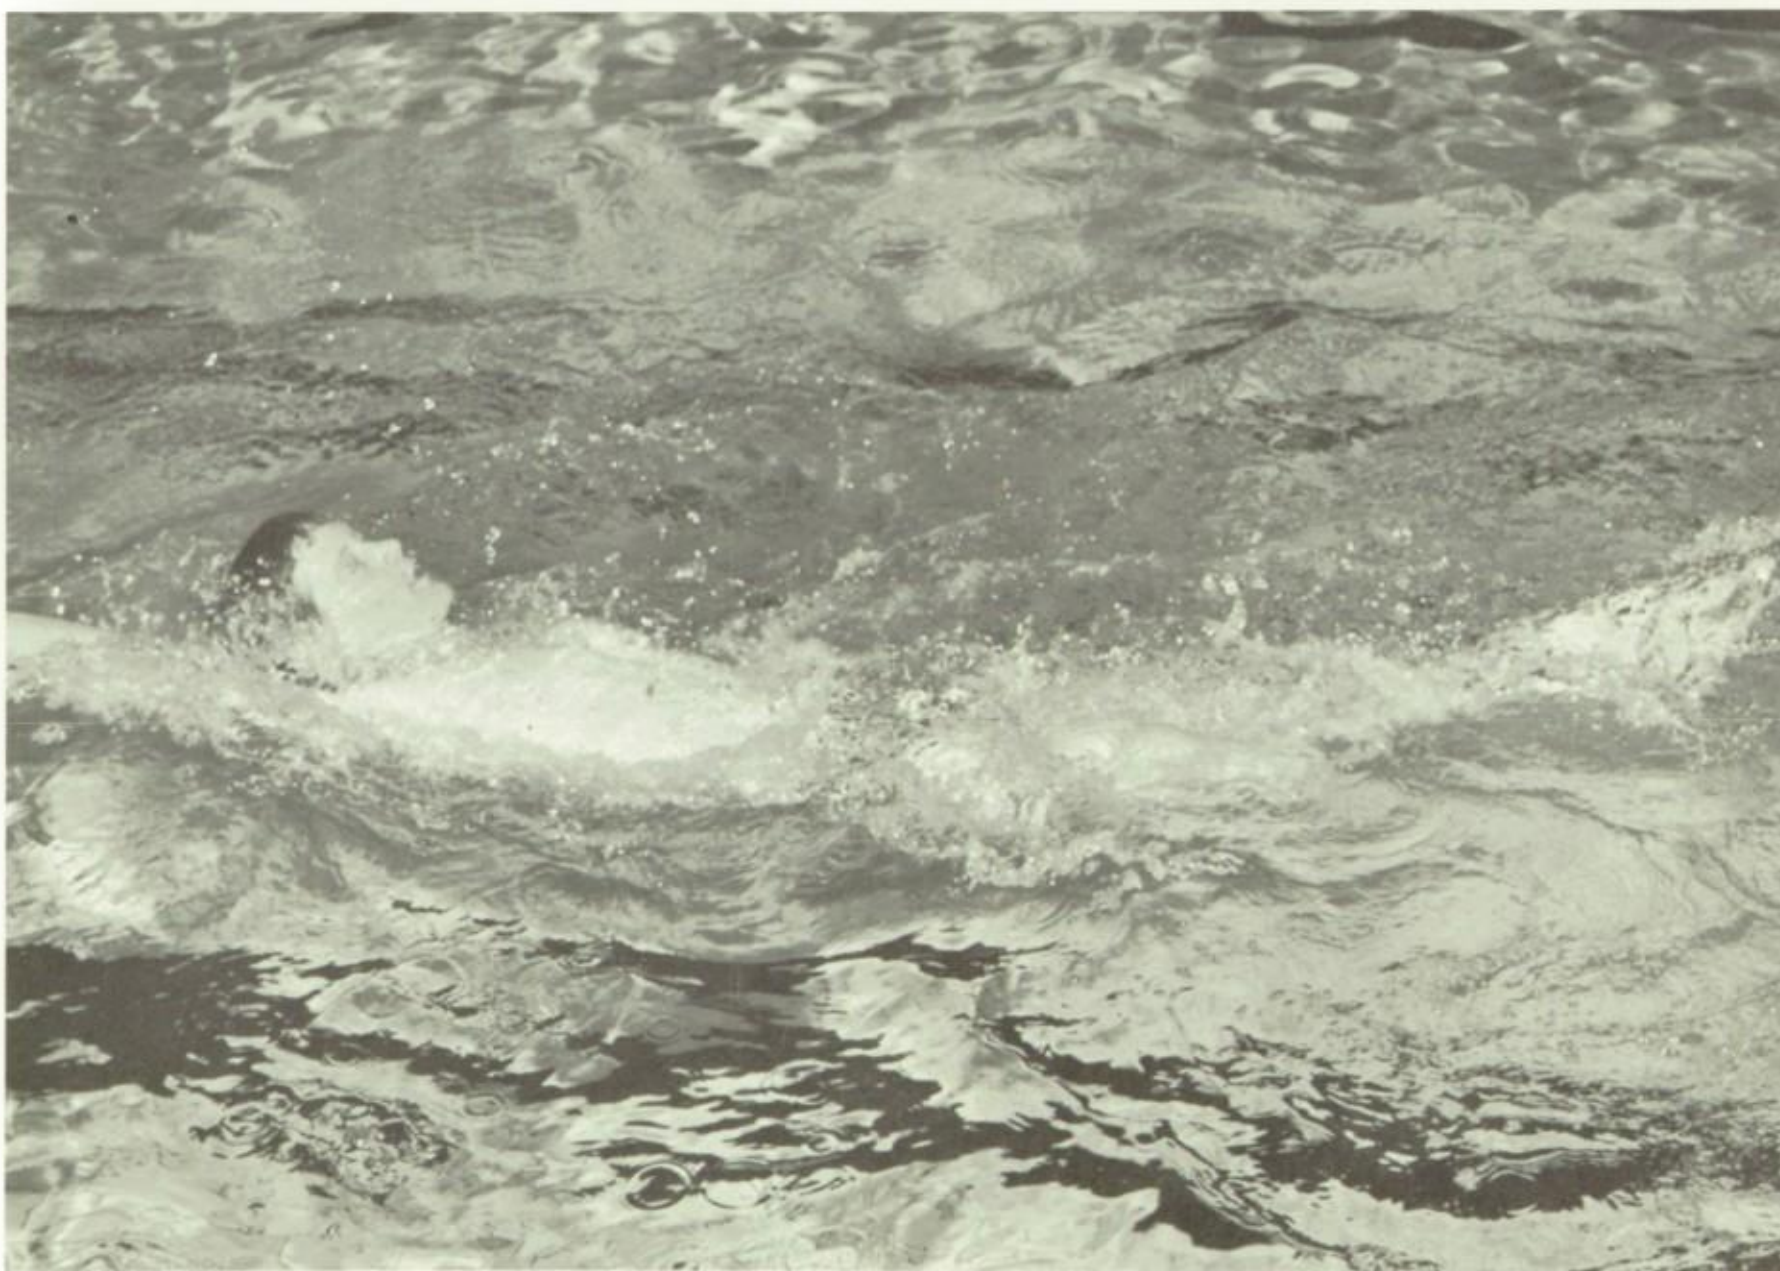

This year's Freshman and Sophomoresquads each showed the promise that will give next year's varsity team the talent needed to capture the Suburban League title. Added to this bright outlook is the return of such Juniors as Jim Simon, Rick Shubert and Bruce Herman.

Although swimming is as ancient as the oldest records of history, it did not reach full popularity until after World War I. Here Lee Bollow is racing toward victory in the backstroke. All strokes in swimming provide for fine body building.

Wrestling: Underclassmen lead team

Varsity Wrestling. BACK ROW: K. Kravitz, H. Witkov, R. Sataloe, J. Cake, D. Beard, S. Soltis, C. Yale, R. Baer. FRONT ROW: J. Castino, and J. Kandel. The Varsity Wrestling team had to call upon students from other classes to make up for the lack of Senior participants.

R. Sataloe demonstrates a half-nelson on H. Witkov who in turn puts a guillotine on Ralph.

The 1968-69 wrestling team had a disappointing season. Plagued by a lack of experience, as well as a lack of participants, Coach Hutcherson had to rely on a team composed solely of underclassmen. In the won-loss category the team posted an unsuccessful dual meet record; however, inexperience and not inability was the major handicap.

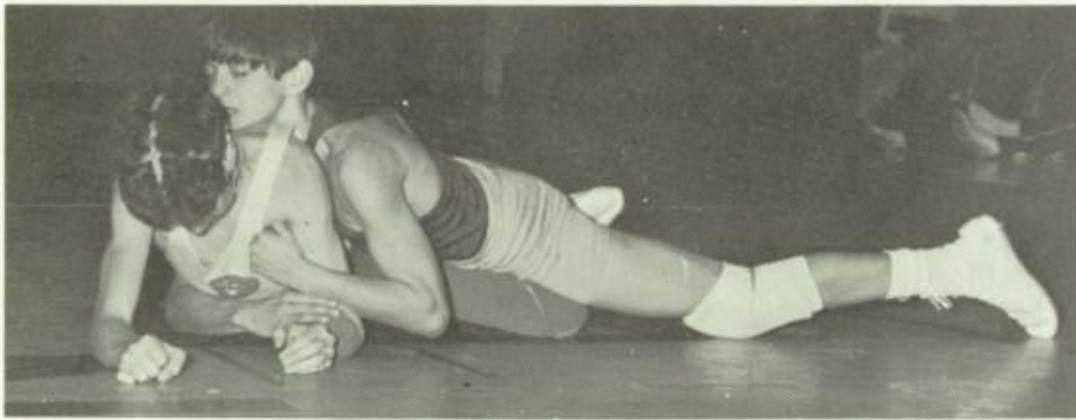

The squad can be proud of its victories over New Trier and Wheeling in the Niles East quadrangular, as well as Jack Kandel's third place in the Waukegan Tournament and Ralph Sataloe's third in State Districts. The 1969-70 season promises more success with experienced matmen.

Freshman Wrestling. BACK ROW: M. Spanger, M. Rafalowicz, J. Anderson, D. Connelly, K. Burkley. FRONT ROW: S. Rock, P. Festinstine, G. Castino, and J. Pau.

The Sophomore squad failed to win a meet this year due to lack of participants. With nearly half the Sophomores wrestling, Varsity Coach Patterson had to fill the weights with several Freshmen. The most consistent members of the team were Larry Auerbach at 95 pounds and Steve Milstein at 120 pounds. Jeff Lake, Jerry Castino, Jim Lake, Brad Soltis and Dave Beard wrestled in the Varsity ranks most of the year and should contribute to future Niles East teams.

Despite an optimistic turn out the Frosh grapplers had a disappointing season. At times the team was hindered with some of its members going Sophomore; however, Gary Castino and Morry Ralphowitz added to individual accomplishments.

Fencing has evolved from a method of warfare, to a common manner of settling quarrels, to a good sport, as it is today. Mr. Keen guides these fencers.

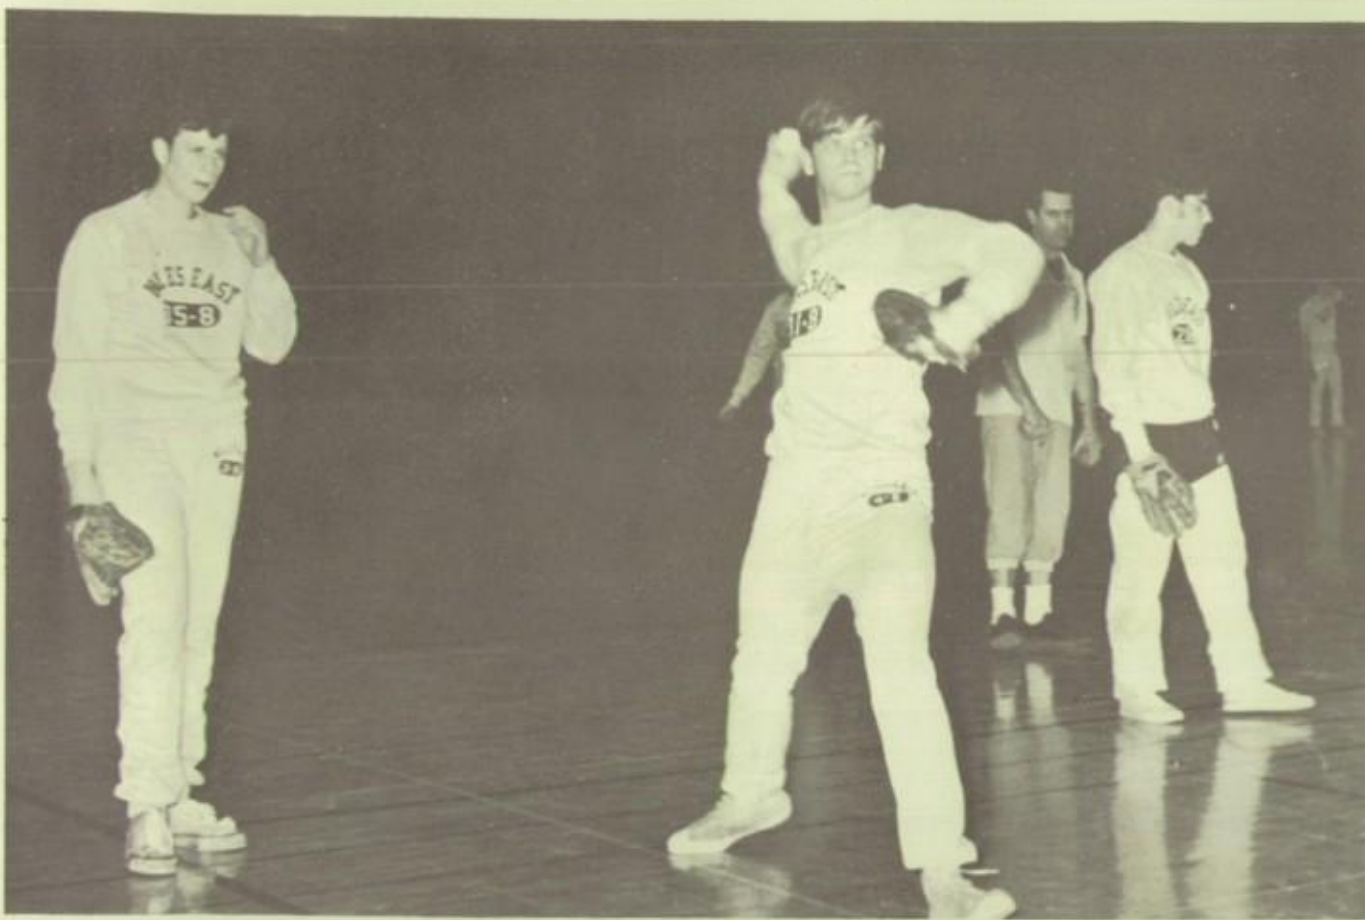

The Niles East fencing team continued their excellence in state competition this year by taking a second place. Starting for East was Senior Ken Fleischer who took fourth with a seventeen and eight won-loss record. Aiding Ken were Seniors Marty Fraeman and Neal White, and Juniors Alan Acker and Tom Fillipp. Neal was ten and zero going into quarter finals, but he ended up in 13th in state. Marty Fraeman and Tom Fillipp tied for 14th and Alan Acker took fifteenth.

At the University of Illinois, Circle Campus invitational meet, Niles East again took second to Marshal High School. During the regular season, the Trojans were 11 and 4, losing only to state champion Marshal, and to Maine South.

A successful club has to have conscientious leaders, and that's what it took to improve the activities of the Girls' Athletic Association. Led by President J. Jungwirth and Vice-President C. Porter, the G.A.A. continued its candy sales, Friday after school meetings and held a Parent Co-ed Night, during which the parents of the girls were invited to play volleyball. G.A.A. sponsored a basketball tournament between the girls and the gym teachers. Towards the end of the year, the girls had a playday for the incoming Freshmen in order to get them acquainted with the school's Physical Education Department. Before participating in a softball game, the G.A.A. members showed the eighth-graders the small and large gym, the dance studio, the swimming pool, the gymnastic apparatus, the locker room, and the fields. G.A.A. closed out the year with the awards assembly and banquet.

"Hit" was the word this year for the cheerleaders as they focused their energies into cheering the boys on to victory, and helping develop a greater school spirit. The girls enlarged the field of excitement and added interest at football and basketball games.

The cheerleaders met on Tuesdays and Thursdays after school to practice their essential movements: jumps, mounts, and smiles. Through their hard work, the cheerleaders led the teams on to victory.

"Imagine being suspended just for being thirsty!
I hope they don't catch me in the halls."

As the entering Freshmen focused on their new school, they quickly became part of the bustling motion of Niles East. As they became an integral part of the school, the Class of '72 silhouetted their classroom participation with extra-curricular activities. They developed increasing responsibilities through Student Council, Freshman Cabinet, and the Student-Faculty Cooperative Committee. They developed new talents by helping with the production of Reflections Talent Show and Panic '69.

The Freshmen entered bewildered and confused, but broadened their scope to become an important and needed part of Niles East. The projection for their future is one of an increased participation and leadership at school.

Although Arlene Brod and Barb Sundmacher don't seem to mind the cold wind ripping through the Homecoming Parade, Kris Williams and Debbie Seiden appear to have different thoughts as they ride down Oakton Street.

After taking elevators their Freshman year, the class of '71 found stairs to be more appropriate. They climbed the second of four levels to improve on their Freshman record. The class of '71 was not interested in instant replay of their Freshman year so they began to work dilligently in all school affairs. They started by winning the Miss Trojan contest, continued to expand their interests by building a Class "A," second place float for Homecoming, and worked on a successful booth during the school carnival, Panic.

They got their class cabinet rolling as they sold class rings, buttons, and Niles East decals. All of this to raise money for the finest Junior-Senior Prom Niles East has ever had.

As the Sophomore class approaches the third level in the movie of life at Niles, they look forward to new privileges as upperclassmen.

Jim Simon accepts Terry Trojan in recognition of the Juniors' enthusiastic cheering.

With their new status as upperclassmen, the Juniors wound up their third exciting and busy year. Juniors were the hosts to the Senior Class of '69 in the annual Junior-Senior Prom at Highland Park Country Club. They also were a major part in the production of Reflection's "Our Bag" as well as the spring musical, "Flower Drum Song." But along with their busy social life, many Juniors had the added responsibility of taking college board tests and choosing a suitable college.

Juniors helped Student Council in processing plans for a new Student Responsibility Program that was later expanded to include the Juniors.

The Class of '70 is looking forward to next year when they will be Seniors and the first class to graduate in the new decade.

Senior year flashed by for many of the students in the Class of '69. Senior Cabinet's second annual car wash was a tremendous success, and its proceeds paid for the Senior sponsored Homecoming Dance, "Groovin'". For the first time in many years, Seniors enjoyed their own class gift. They installed a jukebox in the senior lounge and heard its blaring notes every period of the day. Thanks to the newly established responsibility program, Seniors spent much time during free periods relaxing. They saw silhouettes of college as they took ACT and SAT exams and received college acceptances. They were exposed to campus life as many made visits to the college of their choice. The annual Senior sponsored carnival, Panic '69, was a great success.

Soon it was time for the 119 Illinois State Scholarship winners to be acknowledged at the academic awards assembly. Following were bicycle day, the class picnic, and graduation. The years sped by now visions of college and business lay ahead.

acknowledgement

Viewing Niles East through a photographic lens is a difficult but worthwhile task. We would like to thank the many people who helped us accomplish the production of Reflections 1969. Special thanks go to our sponsors Mr. Ray Kittredge and Mr. Mel Pirok.

For technical assistance we wish to thank Mr. Norman Koenig and the King Company, publishers, Root Studios, photographers, student photographers Alan Gilman and Bruce Rudenberg, and student artists. These include Charleen Estes, cover design, Marc Feder, section openings, and Tina Scarpelli, title and acknowledgement designs.

Special appreciation goes to our sections editors Beth Anderson, Jeanne Benas, Lydia Bilton, Nancy Clothier, Liz Harrold, Barb Heinsimer, Terry Hernandez, and Joel Nitti. We would especially like to thank the entire student Reflections '69 staff for their energetic help in capturing Niles East through the photographic lens.

Love,
Lynn Darmstadter
